Says Change To Dewey Thruway Not Costly

Should Governor Rockefeller sign the bill making the New York State Thruway the Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, as he is expected to do following approval of the measure last night by the Senate, there will be no great expenditure of funds for re-signing the Thruway.

"We will undoubtedly do something consistent with good business" said William Davidson, director of public information for the Thruway Authority, when interviewed by a Freeman reporter today.

It was pointed out by Davidson that in the past there has been legislation passed and signed by the governor calling for the Thruway to be known by various names, including Indian names and one the Blue Star Memorial Highway.

In response to that legislation which, like the present legislation, stated that the Thruway shall be "known as" the suggested names, the law did not require the changing of signs throughout the length of the highway.

He pointed out that small signs were erected and reference was made in circulars to the fact that the Thruway was also known by the suggested names.

The legislation, Davidson pointed out, leaves it up to the Thruway Authority to decide what to do to implement the name New York State Thruway.

"We are certainly not going to knock down the marquees at the toll booths and erect new signs announcing the Thomas E. Dewey Thruway," said Davidson. He pointed out that it would be up to the three members of the Thruway Authority to decide just what would be done after the governor signs the bill.

The millions of maps and folders which have been printed for public distribution, nor will the existing signs be scrapped at great cost to the Authority, Davidson said.

"The bill changing the name of the Thruway does not require the Authority to spend one penny," Davidson stated, and he reiterated that the legislation simply says that the Thruway "shall be known as the Thomas E. Dewey Thruway."

Asked if there had been any opposition to the legislation, Davidson said there had been numerous editorials throughout the state, including Buffalo and New York papers, which opposed the measure. The Authority had received many letters in opposition to any re-naming of the Thruway and he said there had been a "rash" of cards from the Kingston area in opposition.

Davidson pointed out several organizations have requested memorial signs be placed on several sections of the Thruway. These signs have been erected by organizations and also certain small signs by the Thruway calling attention to the memorialization but he stated that there has

NEW YORK (AP) — A "whoopee success," said a leader of the boycott for full integration of New York City's schools.

"Mostly a fizzle," said the school board president.

Both were talking about the 464,362 pupils who stayed away from school for one day Monday.

President James B. Donovan of the Board of Education said: "All it did was furnish an excuse for kids to stay out."

Normally, 100,000 of the city's one million public school pupils stay home each day anyway because of illness or other reasons.

Of the 43,800 public school teachers in the nation's largest school system, 3,537 — three times more than normal — also were absent. Some joined picket lines of Negroes, Puerto Ricans and others outside the schools. Children also marched on picket lines.

There are 3,733 Negro and Puerto Rican teachers in the system.

The absent teachers face penalties ranging from loss of one day's pay to possible dismissal for neglect of duty unless they can give valid reasons for being absent, Board of Education officials said.

Civil rights groups that spearheaded the boycott had said they would retaliate if the board punishes teachers with anything more than loss of a day's pay.

The Rev. Milton A. Galamison, chairman of the citywide Committee for Integrated Schools, sponsor of the boycott, said the committee would meet "within the next 24 hours" to discuss another boycott. He said Feb. 11 and Feb. 25 had been suggested but no dates had been set.

But Galamison told more than

Jackson Has New Problems

Gas, Shots Used To Stop Meeting

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A traffic injury to a Negro pedestrian has touched off this Mississippi capital city's first racial demonstrations in more than six months.

Police used tear gas and warning blasts from shotguns to break up a protest Monday night involving about 1,000 Negroes — many of them high school and college students.

Earlier officers had quelled a protest march by barking commands to disperse through bullhorns.

Have Buckshot Wounds

Three Negroes received treatment for superficial buckshot wounds following the second flareup on the campus of Jackson State College, a state - supported all-Negro institution.

Last summer more than 1,000 Negroes were arrested during a month of demonstrations climaxed by the assassination of a Negro leader.

Mamie Balard, 20, of Flora, Miss., a Jackson State coed suffered a fractured leg late M[illegible] day when she was struck b[illegible] car while crossing Lynch Str[illegible], a busy thoroughfare which cuts through the campus. Witnesses said the driver was a white person.

Motorist Arrested

Officers said later they had arrested the motorist, who was ticketed for failure to yield to a pedestrian. Police declined to identify the motorist.

Small groups of students began to protest speeding on Lynch Street, which has a 35 - mile an hour speed limit. As the crowd grew they began marching in the street, shouting and singing "freedom songs."

Many went to a college basketball game. After the game, the demonstration started again.

Police reinforcements sealed off both the Jackson State campus and that of adjoining Campbell Christian College, a small Negro church - supported school.

Officers at first banned newsmen from the area. Later newsmen and photographers were permitted to enter.

Two New Terms Set for 1964

Attorneys Are Absent, 85 Cases Moved Over

Many of the 85 criminal cases on the February criminal calendar were moved over to future dates when defense attorneys failed to appear in County Court Monday afternoon for the call of the criminal calendar. In several cases District Attorney David W. Corwin said attorneys had been notified to produce their clients.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino said measures must be taken to see that attorneys are in court when notified the case is to be called. In several of the cases Judge Mino directed that the clerk of the court notify the attorney that he must be in court on the adjourned date with his client.

Two New Terms

At the opening of court Judge Mino announced that during 1964 there would be two new terms of County Court, one in June and one in October. These terms will be devoted to civil non-jury trials. These additional terms of County Court are made possible through the addition of new courtroom facilities in the renovated courthouse. In January of this year new County Court rules became effective. The calendar rules of the Supreme Court are now the County calendar rules.

Judge Mino announced that additions to the present civil day calendar will be made on February 17.

At the last term of County Court in November Judge Mino disposed of 65 criminal cases and 24 civil cases.

Placed on Probation

Among the cases disposed of Monday was that of Joseph Michael Chabowski, 19, of New York city, who had entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry to a Route 28 gun shop and, with two companions, took 41 guns. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant and told the court defendant had been helpful to the authorities in recovery of the merchandise and was willing to make restitution for the remaining. In view of the fact that there is a warrant outstanding in Sullivan County for Chabowski, Judge Mino sentenced defendant to a year in the county jail, suspended sentence and placed him on three years' probation.

In the case of Troy Porter, charged with entering the Buck junk yard, Francis Martocci who had represented Porter, asked to be relieved and that Porter, who had been released in custody be surrendered to the court and held in jail pending bail. Martocci said Porter failed to cooperate and was reported to be about to leave the state and go to Virginia.

Sentence Postponed

Porter told the court he desired to go to Virginia only to be present at the probate of his father's will. He said he would waive assignment of counsel and pleaded guilty to being in the building but not breaking into the building. A plea of unlawful entry was entered and sentence was postponed until Wednesday at 10 a. m. Defendant was remanded to jail.

Among those arraigned were: David Paul Duffy, 17, charged in a six count indictment with third degree burglary, petit larceny, and unlawful entry on December 30, 1963. John J. Schick appeared for the youth.

Action Due On UR Unit For Kingston

A resolution which would create an Urban Renewal Agency for the city will be presented for consideration by the Common Council 7:30 tonight in the council's chamber at City Hall.

Also expected to come before the council will be discussions on non-property tax proposals.

The purpose and need for passage of the Urban Renewal Agency resolution was explained today by Alexander Yosman, Kingston Urban Renewal adviser.

Explains Payments

"Urban Renewal Agency resolution which is being presented to the Common Council is a vital part of the city's Urban Renewal Program. Under Article 15 of the State Constitution a locality can only undertake programs where the expenditure is within two per cent of the bond limitation of the city.

"In the case of Urban Renewal the federal government makes progress payments after a certain percentage of the project is completed. With the enormity of our projects, the first progress payment will be greater than the two per cent limitation and unless we have an agency created for our city we will not be able to undertake any of our Urban Renewal projects.

No Powers Lost

"The State Legislature has noted that many cities were not able to proceed with their Urban Renewal programs and have passed legislation permitting cities to establish Urban renewal agencies which will be permitted to borrow outside the two per cent limitation with the faith of the federal government guaranteeing the bonds.

"The creation of this agency in no way takes away any of the powers from the Common Council and any changes in the plan, selection of developers, etc, must be approved by the Common Council. The agency is charged with executing the mandate of the Common Council," Yosman concluded.

GOPersCalm In Approach To Smoking

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's Republican leaders are leaning toward a bill that would require merchants to post signs advising that state law bars them from selling cigarettes to minors.

They are flatly opposed, however, to a more drastic anti-cigarette measure advocated by an influential senator — a bill that would force cigarette manufacturers to label each package as "dangerous to health."

Sources close to Asssembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said the GOP leaders had decided on a moderate approach to the smoking problem.

Favors Educational Program

Carlino was said to favor an educational program, especially to indoctrinate youth to the dangers of smoking.

Mahoney was inclined toward the posting bill, and Carlino was reported willing to go along. The prospect therefore was that the 1964 Legislature would pass such a measure.

State law now prohibits sale of cigarettes to persons under age 18. At a public hearing on the smoking problem last week, the law was described as "one of the best-kept secrets in New York State."

Has Bill on Signs

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau County, chairman of the special Senate Committee on Smoking, is preparing a bill that would require all places that sell cigarettes to post a sign calling attention to the law.

In another state-government development, the Assembly passed bills that would add 18 days to the thoroughbred and harness - racing seasons in a move designed to boost the state's pari-mutuel betting revenues by $2.5 million this year. The Senate is expected to concur.

Security Major Concern

May Never Know Story Told by Mrs. Oswald

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement —perhaps Wednesday—when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Queried Again Today

She goes before the commission again today. "I don't know how newsworthy" the commission's statement will be, Warren told reporters. He added that if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades —"and I say that seriously."

This suggested that the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

But Monday's day-long questioning of the Russian-born, 22-year-old Mrs. Oswald—who believes her Marxist husband assassinated Kennedy — dealt with Oswald's activity and movements in the United States, after he brought his bride here.

"Mrs. Oswald told us some things we hadn't heard before—some new things, new evidence," Rankin told questioners. He said she was "a very cooperative witness."

Warren declined to confirm

Panhandle Is Hit Hard by Snow But Farmers Jubilant

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blinding, blizzard-like snowstorm isolated many Texas and New Mexico communities today causing at least three deaths, and whipping up drifts as deep as seven feet.

The snow, mixed in some spots with hard rains, covered much of Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico, and knifed deep into west central Texas.

17 Inches at Borger

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed over most of the Texas Panhandle with 17 inches of snow at Borger and 14 inches at Spearman.

Only a few vehicles were able to negotiate U. S. Highway 66 west of Amarillo. The Texas Highway Patrol urged all residents not to attempt travel.

Says Baker Gets Two-Way Profit In Haitian Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators disclosed testimony today that Bobby Baker is raking in money both from the seller and the buyer in a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony pictured Baker as helping to engineer the deal, which in the beginning involved Jose Benitez, who was identified as Puerto Rico's Democratic national committeeman.

The complex transaction was described by Francis E. Law and Thomas Webb Jr., Washington business partners, who said they also get a cut of the two-way profit.

Law and Webb testified at closed hearings last week of the Senate Rules Committee. The Senate group is investigating the outside business operations of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. Albert D. Gore, D-Tenn., promised meanwhile to introduce a resolution to widen the Rules Committee's authority in investigating all the ins and outs of the case.

One issue has been whether the group has authority to investigate senators and aides to senators — as distinguished from employes of the Senate itself—concerning their dealings with Baker. Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., insists it lacks

Showdown Looms For Tax Credits On College Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate showdown comes today on the controversial proposal to give tax credits to parents putting their children through college.

Johnson administration forces were battling to defeat the plan, contending it could cut too deeply into revenue — an estimated $750 million the first year, $1.3 billion annually later.

Report Heavy Pressure

Senators on both sides of the issue reported heavy pressure for the measure from parents footing college bills.

Democratic leaders conceded they expected a close vote on the proposal, which was advanced by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., as an amendment to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Heated Debate

The proposal was debated for four hours, sometimes heatedly, before the Senate adjourned Monday at 8:08 p.m. after a session of more than 10 hours. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield scheduled today's session two hours early to get in more work on the tax bill and act on Ribicoff's amendment.

Report to Outline Factors Slowing College Progress

A detailed report to be published by The Freeman Wednesday outlines the many factors which are causing delay in the start of a permanent building of Ulster County Community College.

Many of the facts and figures quoted in the article were discussed at executive sessions of the local college trustees with members of the Board of Supervisors College Committee and were never before made public.

Peking Flexing Muscles That Could Carve Communist World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China may be on the verge of a go-it-alone policy which could carve the Communist world into two distinct and even opposing blocs.

Peking is flexing new muscles. Possibly it feels more confident since the recognition extended by France. Turning Nikita against him, Peking implies the Soviet premier and his European Communists should let Red China lead the revolution in Asia and Africa.

Khrushchev, who once promised to bury the West's social system, himself is going to be buried by the revolutionary movement, said Peking in its latest broadside.

The attack accused Khrushchev of encouraging an "anti-party group" inside the Chinese party. The use of this phrase—coined by Khrushchev—is tinged with sarcasm.

The Chinese party never had a violent purge in the old Soviet style. If it had purges it avoided advertising them. But there is a hint in the use of the term "antiparty" that Mao Tze-tung handled resistance to his policies within his own Politburo in the only way Communists seem able to deal with differences of opinion.

It is widely known that Khrushchev opposed Mao's attempt to launch Red China on the "great leap forward." Khrushchev applauded those in the Peking leadership—like Marshal Peng Teh-huai, an old comrade of Mao—who resisted the great leap.

The experiment with the great leap and people's communes — abandoned as a failure — is known to have caused trouble in the Communist Chinese army. Some officers feared it meant an end to Soviet military aid. Others resented expansion of the Chinese militia and the use of regular army soldiers as laborers.

Peng Teh-huai eventually was removed as defense minister and tossed off the Politburo. He has disappeared from public view.

The difference of opinion over China's internal policies was a root cause of the ideological split with the Kremlin.

Now the Chinese are beginning to sound like a party about to go its own way, and even to assert its undisputed sway over the revolution in Asia and Africa, on the ground that Khrushchev and his supporters have forfeited their claim to leadership.

They deny that Khrushchev has any right to unchallenged leadership in the first place. The Chinese indicate it was their understanding that in this historical period the Russians were to be no more than first among equals—guides and perhaps financiers of the revolution but with no right to dictate to other Communist - ruled countries.

Urges Area Concerns Join Foreign Market

Mid-Hudson manufacturers were advised Monday night to move strongly and rapidly into the overseas market if they are to maintain and increase their profits and employment.

This advice came from Howard D. MacPherson, director of the International Commerce Division of the New York State Commerce Department, who addressed 100 representatives and guests of the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association at Aloy's Garden Restaurant in Poughkeepsie.

MacPherson said the "American domestic market is becoming increasingly competitive while the sales opportunities for manufactured goods are still wide open and expanding rapidly outside the United States."

At the same time the state official warned that "in the foreseeable future U. S. companies will face new sales problems caused by increased competition within the American market from both domestic corporations and foreign companies fighting for shares of the U. S. market."

Untapped Opportunities in International Trade was the topic of MacPherson's talk at the third forum meeting of the 1963-64 series.

Guests at the meeting include W. Dale Swartzmiller, director of the Kingston regional office of the N. Y. State Department of Commerce; Charles Heilmer, industrial safety director of the N. Y. State Department of Labor; G. Russell Lozier, formerly wih the De Laval Separator Co., and Robert Warnaar of Rotterdam, Holland. Also introduced were Taylor N. Thompson, general manager; Harold R. In another state-government development, the Assembly passed bills that would add 18 days to the thoroughbred and harness - racing seasons in a move designed to boost the state's pari-mutuel betting revenues by $2.5 million this year. The Senate is expected to concur.

Security Major Concern

May Never Know Story Told by Mrs. Oswald

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretly given testimony of Mrs. Marina Oswald on events preceding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy "may not be released in your lifetime," Chief Justice Earl Warren has disclosed.

Warren said the presidential investigating commission which he heads will issue a statement —perhaps Wednesday—when it finishes questioning its first witness, the slim and pretty widow of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Queried Again Today

She goes before the commission again today. "I don't know how newsworthy" the commission's statement will be, Warren told reporters. He added that if it contains information affecting national security, it may be suppressed for decades —"and I say that seriously."

This suggested that the commission intends to explore as thoroughly as possible, through Mrs. Oswald and other witnesses, delicate subjects such as Oswald's 1959 visit to Russia, his unsuccessful efforts to defect to the Soviet Union and his attempts, on a Mexican visit last September, to obtain visas for Russia or Cuba.

But Monday's day-long questioning of the Russian-born, 22-year-old Mrs. Oswald—who believes her Marxist husband assassinated Kennedy — dealt with Oswald's activity and movements in the United States, after he brought his bride here.

"Mrs. Oswald told us some things we hadn't heard before—some new things, new evidence," Rankin told questioners. He said she was "a very cooperative witness."

Warren declined to confirm

Panhandle Is Hit Hard by Snow But Farmers Jubilant

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blinding, blizzard-like snowstorm isolated many Texas and New Mexico communities today causing at least three deaths, and whipping up drifts as deep as seven feet.

The snow, mixed in some spots with hard rains, covered much of Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico, and knifed deep into west central Texas.

17 Inches at Borger

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed over most of the Texas Panhandle with 17 inches of snow at Borger and 14 inches at Spearman.

Only a few vehicles were able to negotiate U. S. Highway 66 west of Amarillo. The Texas Highway Patrol urged all residents not to attempt travel.

Says Baker Gets Two-Way Profit In Haitian Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators disclosed testimony today that Bobby Baker is raking in money both from the seller and the buyer in a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony pictured Baker as helping to engineer the deal, which in the beginning involved Jose Benitez, who was identified as Puerto Rico's Democratic national committeeman.

The complex transaction was described by Francis E. Law and Thomas Webb Jr., Washington business partners, who said they also get a cut of the two-way profit.

Law and Webb testified at closed hearings last week of the Senate Rules Committee. The Senate group is investigating the outside business operations of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. Albert D. Gore, D-Tenn., promised meanwhile to introduce a resolution to widen the Rules Committee's authority in investigating all the ins and outs of the case.

One issue has been whether the group has authority to investigate senators and aides to senators — as distinguished from employes of the Senate itself—concerning their dealings with Baker. Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., insists it lacks

Showdown Looms For Tax Credits On College Bills

Johnson administration forces were battling to defeat the plan, contending it could cut too deeply into revenue — an estimated $750 million the first year, $1.3 billion annually later.

Report Heavy Pressure

Senators on both sides of the issue reported heavy pressure for the measure from parents footing college bills.

Democratic leaders conceded they expected a close vote on the proposal, which was advanced by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., as an amendment to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Heated Debate

The proposal was debated for four hours, sometimes heatedly, before the Senate adjourned Monday at 8:08 p.m. after a session of more than 10 hours. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield scheduled today's session two hours early to get in more work on the tax bill and act on Ribicoff's amendment.

Report to Outline Factors Slowing College Progress

A detailed report to be published by The Freeman Wednesday outlines the many factors which are causing delay in the start of a permanent building of Ulster County Community College.

Many of the facts and figures quoted in the article were discussed at executive sessions of the local college trustees with members of the Board of Supervisors College Committee and were never before made public.

Peking Flexing Muscles That Could Carve Communist World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red China may be on the verge of a go-it-alone policy which could carve the Communist world into two distinct and even opposing blocs.

Peking is flexing new muscles. Possibly it feels more confident since the recognition extended by France. Turning Nikita against him, Peking implies the Soviet premier and his European Communists should let Red China lead the revolution in Asia and Africa.

Khrushchev, who once promised to bury the West's social system, himself is going to be buried by the revolutionary movement, said Peking in its latest broadside.

The attack accused Khrushchev of encouraging an "anti-party group" inside the Chinese party. The use of this phrase—coined by Khrushchev—is tinged with sarcasm.

The Chinese party never had a violent purge in the old Soviet style. If it had purges it avoided advertising them. But there is a hint in the use of the term "antiparty" that Mao Tze-tung handled resistance to his policies within his own Politburo in the only way Communists seem able to deal with differences of opinion.

It is widely known that Khrushchev opposed Mao's attempt to launch Red China on the "great leap forward." Khrushchev applauded those in the Peking leadership—like Marshal Peng Teh-huai, an old comrade of Mao—who resisted the great leap.

The experiment with the great leap and people's communes — abandoned as a failure — is known to have caused trouble in the Communist Chinese army. Some officers feared it meant an end to Soviet military aid. Others resented expansion of the Chinese militia and the use of regular army soldiers as laborers.

Peng Teh-huai eventually was removed as defense minister and tossed off the Politburo. He has disappeared from public view.

The difference of opinion over China's internal policies was a root cause of the ideological split with the Kremlin.

Now the Chinese are beginning to sound like a party about to go its own way, and even to assert its undisputed sway over the revolution in Asia and Africa, on the ground that Khrushchev and his supporters have forfeited their claim to leadership.

They deny that Khrushchev has any right to unchallenged leadership in the first place. The Chinese indicate it was their understanding that in this historical period the Russians were to be no more than first among equals—guides and perhaps financiers of the revolution but with no right to dictate to other Communist - ruled countries.

Urges Area Concerns Join Foreign Market

Mid-Hudson manufacturers were advised Monday night to move strongly and rapidly into the overseas market if they are to maintain and increase their profits and employment.

This advice came from Howard D. MacPherson, director of the International Commerce Division of the New York State Commerce Department, who addressed 100 representatives and guests of the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association at Aloy's Garden Restaurant in Poughkeepsie.

MacPherson said the "American domestic market is becoming increasingly competitive while the sales opportunities for manufactured goods are still wide open and expanding rapidly outside the United States."

At the same time the state official warned that "in the foreseeable future U. S. companies will face new sales problems caused by increased competition within the American market from both domestic corporations and foreign companies fighting for shares of the U. S. market."

Untapped Opportunities in International Trade was the topic of MacPherson's talk at the third forum meeting of the 1963-64 series.

Guests at the meeting include W. Dale Swartzmiller, director of the Kingston regional office of the N. Y. State Department of Commerce; Charles Heilmer, industrial safety director of the N. Y. State Department of Labor; G. Russell Lozier, formerly wih the De Laval Separator Co., and Robert Warnaar of Rotterdam, Holland. Also introduced were Taylor N. Thompson, general manager; Harold R. Powell, production manager and Edward Mazur, assistant to the production manager of the Vir Tis Co., of Gardiner, a new member of the association.

Aims at 1964 Presidential Crop

Clare Boothe Luce Has Platform to End Platforms

NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce took dead aim at the 1964 crop of presidential candidates today and unleashed a platform to end presidential platforms.

It was strictly tongue in cheek —or dagger in cheek.

The former Republican congresswoman and one - time ambassador to Italy said in an interview: "I'd enter the New Hampshire primary in a minute if I had a campaign manager, an organization and a political base. I've certainly got the program."

The program?

"I am for the 35 - hour week without any increase in labor costs.

"I am for lifting everyone off the social bottom. In fact, I am for doing away with the social bottom altogether.

"I am for victory in Viet Nam without any increase in U.S. casualties or expenditures. I am also for neutralization of Viet Nam as soon as Gen. de Gaulle apologizes for having suggested it.

"I am for raising living standards of the world by deep and judicious pruning of U.S. aid.

"I am for licking the stuffing out of Khrushchev while relaxing U.S.-U.S.S.R. tensions.

"I am for supporting the European Common Market as an outlet for more American chickens and British agricultural products.

"I am for doing away with all military juntas except those we bring into power.

"I am for the independence and sovereignty of the young, immature African nations and the abandonment of the independence and sovereignty of all the old, mature European nations.

"I am for a vigorous two - party system in which my party will control the White House, all the governorships and over 75 per cent of Congress."

Did Mrs. Luce think the presidential race could afford another woman candidate?

"Actually I nominated Sen. Margaret Chase Smith for vice president in 1952, if you remember, and I'd be delighted to vote for her if she is nominated," the blonde playwright-author said.

Capitol News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

WINDOW FOR IDEAS: President Johnson has given Princeton historian Eric F. Goldman the job of channeling "the nation's best thinking to the White House."

The 48-year-old professor will serve as a part-time coordinator of a plan which the White House called a "wide-open window for ideas."

The White House said Goldman "will help keep a continuous flow of specific proposals, general approaches and opinions from a wide range of experts from outside the government."

RANGER: A special board has been named to try to learn why Ranger 6 failed to send back pictures of the moon's surface Sunday.

At stake, the U.S. space agency said, is "the future course of action" in the entire Ranger program which has had six straight breakdowns.

REV. EDWIN C. COON

REV. H. F. SCHADEWALD

At a recent meeting of the Classis of Ulster, Reformed Church of America, the by-laws of that organization were so altered as to create a new system of assumption to office.

A system by which ministers automatically succeeded to Classical offices determined by their length of service in the Classis was discarded and replaced by a yearly election.

At the January meeting of Classis the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, minister of the Fair Street Reformed Church of Kingston, was elected president and the Rev. Harold Schadewald, minister of the Hurley Reformed Church, was elected treasurer and clerk.

Elder Harrison Cornish of the Port Ewen Reformed Church was elected vice president and the Rev. George VanEmburg of Gardiner took the office of temporary clerk.

The Classis of Ulster is composed of 28 churches bound on the north by the Blue Mountain, Katsbaan and Saugerties Churches, extending to the south as far as Gardiner and Accord, made up of some 5,000 members and nearly a thousand adherents. Each church is entitled to one elder and one minister delegate.

Washout Blamed For Cargo Drop On Barge Canal

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A washout on a part of the Erie Canal is blamed for a slight drop from 1962 in the amount of cargo carried on the State Barge Canal in 1963.

The State Public Works Department reported Monday tonnage carried in 1963 was 1.66 per cent below that of 1962. The department attributed the slight decline to a 31-day suspension of service in part of the Erie Canal. The washout caused the suspension.

The department also reported that 3,225,526 tons was carried during the 237-day 1963 navigation season. This was 54,418 tons under the 3,279,944 tons in 1962.

There was a freight decrease of 4.33 per cent on the Erie Canal and 14.66 per cent on the Oswego Canal. Freight increased 2.88 per cent on the Champlain Canal and 197.35 per cent on the smallest canal, the Cayuga-Seneca, where all but a fraction of the cargo consisted of salt.

Petroleum products, generally the largest single item carried on the system, totaled 2,471,498 tons, an increase of 70,218 tons. Cargoes of cement, lime, scrap iron, wheat and salt also increased.

Decreases were reported in shipments of pig iron and billets, iron or steel articles, sugar, paper products, bituminous materials, chemicals and drugs, corn and agricultural oils.

The report said 40.22 per cent of the total tonnage originated in the state for delivery in the state, compared with 36.58 per cent in 1962.

Guilty Plea Goes Unheeded in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The arraignment of a young woman who blurted "I'm guilty" when an indictment was read charging her with the murder of a deaf man, has been adjourned until Monday.

The plea Monday by Miss Carla Leach, 20, went unheeded by the court.

She and a companion, Robert Hayes, 37, both formerly of Columbus, Ohio, were indicted Monday by an Erie County court grand jury on charges of first-degree murder.

Miss Leach is accused of shooting John Johnkins, 33, Jan. 22 when he failed to hear her command to lie on the floor during a downtown tavern holdup, which netted the couple $75, police said.

The motorists' 1964 license plates were mailed from the Cattaraugus County Motor Vehicle Bureau at Little Valley last week, a spokesman said Monday. They have not yet arrived.

Aims at 1964 Presidential Crop

Clare Boothe Luce Has Platform to End Platforms

It was strictly tongue in cheek —or dagger in cheek.

The former Republican congresswoman and one - time ambassador to Italy said in an interview: "I'd enter the New Hampshire primary in a minute if I had a campaign manager, an organization and a political base. I've certainly got the program."

The program?

"I am for the 35 - hour week without any increase in labor costs.

"I favor a college education for everyone regardless of race, creed or pre - entrance intelligence quotas.

"I am for lifting everyone off the social bottom. In fact, I am for doing away with the social bottom altogether.

"I am for victory in Viet Nam without any increase in U.S. casualties or expenditures. I am also for neutralization of Viet Nam as soon as Gen. de Gaulle apologizes for having suggested it.

"I am for raising living standards of the world by deep and judicious pruning of U.S. aid.

"I am for supporting the European Common Market as an outlet for more American chickens and British agricultural products.

"I am for doing away with all military juntas except those we bring into power.

"I am for the independence and sovereignty of the young, immature African nations and the abandonment of the independence and sovereignty of all the old, mature European nations.

"I am for a vigorous two - party system in which my party will control the White House, all the governorships and over 75 per cent of Congress."

"Actually I nominated Sen. Margaret Chase Smith for vice president in 1952, if you remember, and I'd be delighted to vote for her if she is nominated," the blonde playwright-author said.

The White House said Goldman "will help keep a continuous flow of specific proposals, general approaches and opinions from a wide range of experts from outside the government."

GILT ON ECONOMIC LILY

Never mind what the calendar says; this is monsoon season in Washington, when congressmen, reporters and the public are deluged with a rain of figures from the executive branch of the government.

Not surprisingly, these figures prove that Americans have never had it so good and will have it even better—if they know which side their ballots are buttered on.

One of the most frequently cited figures is the GNP — Gross National Product — which is supposedly the total worth of everything in the country: salaries, goods, machines, services, land, buildings, etc.

According to President Johnson, the GNP will reach $623 billion in 1964. This would be an increase of nearly $260 billion since 1954.

There is a flaw in the figure, unfortunately, as columnist David Lawrence was quick to point out, because about 40 per cent of the increase reflects higher prices.

In terms of the buying power of 1954 dollars, 1964 GNP would be $517.4 billion, not $623 billion.

This is still an increase of $154.3 billion over the 1954 GNP, or more than $15 billion a year. That would seem to be a pretty healthy growth rate. It's even higher than the annual deficit. Why inflate it?

The incumbents should know better than to try to gild the economic lily. Their opponents do not lack for paint remover.

SIX YEARS IN SPACE

It's hard to believe, but it is just six years since the first American satellite went into orbit.

On January 31, 1958, at 10:48 p. m., EST, little 30.8-pound Explorer I rode into history atop a Jupiter C rocket (remember that name?). Even though souped-up, its thrust was less than that of the second stage alone of the Saturn I that was just orbited.

Since then Explorer has traveled well over 26,000 times around the earth, covering some 775 million miles.

As befitted the nation's pioneer satellite, Explorer made the most significant early discovery of the Space Age—the discovery of the Van Allen radiation belts that surround the earth.

Explorer I now goes out as far as 1,011.6 miles from earth and swings in as close as 212.5 miles, taking 104.6 minutes for an orbit. It used to be 114.9 minutes, and the difference is the measure of Explorer's dwindling lifetime.

For what goes up must come down, even in the Space Age. NASA scientists compute that Explorer I will plunge back into the atmosphere and incinerate itself sometime in 1966, eight years after launch.

DISEASE OF THE WEEK

It's been diagnosed as "TV medicitis" by Dr. A. M. Aibinder of New York City.

According to the doctor, some viewers become so caught up in medical dramas that they identify with the actors and think they have caught the disease being portrayed.

"Convinced they have the disease, they visit their doctor and even request the treatment they saw administered on television," he says.

This might be an idea for the rating services. Along with asking viewers what they are watching at the moment, they could inquire about what diseases they are suffering from. This would reveal not only current program standings, but any carryover from previous weeks' shows.

Median family income rose from $3,091 in 1949 to $5,660 in 1959. The increase in father's pay almost kept him from going further into debt.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

SCRANTON HAS SYMBOLIZED SELF-HELP

I wouldn't say that President Lyndon Johnson was consciously playing the angles when he sent his wife Lady Bird to the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton region of Pennsylvania to dramatize the federal fight against poverty. But there she was, in the home territory of the Keystone State's own Republican Governor William Warren Scranton, subtly conveying the idea that depression, hard coal and the very name of Scranton (as a town) need the magic touch of Washington, D. C., and its federal plan for Appalachia to bring the sun of affluence to shine upon them.

Such manipulation of the stock symbols of politics is a reflex with a man of Lyndon Johnson's experience, and it need not be conscious. In any case, the President gets away with it because nobody bothers to point out that symbols, like words, can be used to conceal the truth. In this instance the truth is that the name of Scranton, whether it is applied to the city or the first family of that city, is a symbol for inspirational self-help as well as a symbol for chronic depression and a failure to cope with regional poverty.

It is not to be denied, of course, that Appalachia, which includes the hard coal region of Scranton, has been in a bad way. But some twenty years ago the city which the Governor of Pennsylvania calls his home town started to pull itself out of the mire by its own bootstraps. Working under a community plan, local monied people bought the old factories which had been vacated by declining industries. Then, using low rents as the bait, the civic-minded capitalists of Scranton brought in a number of new industries. Electronics companies took the place of defense industries that were no longer profitable. The Scranton community's ancient and chronic reliance on anthracite was at least diluted by the new enterprise of the local citizens. And Bill Scranton, not yet a politician, played his part in his home city's economic revival.

The "Scranton Plan" for self-help has not yet been applied to all cities and towns in the five or six State region of Applachia, but it was taken up in a big way in the depressed areas of New England. In Maine, the Scranton Plan was domesticated as something called the Sanford Movement. This movement, which has spread up and down in Maine, took off from the local enterprise of the old boot and textile town of Sanford, which enticed new industries into old mills that had been deserted.

The Scranton-Sanford idea took hold in Manchester, N. H., where the floors of the ancient textile mills along the Merrimac River were cut up into small areas for a variety of modern industries. Skipping south, the Scranton-Sanford-Manchester type of self-help was domesticated in a number of Massachusetts communities which were faced with the necessity of replacing moribund textile companies with smart new electronics and space-age industries.

In Connecticut, the Scranton-Sanford idea transformed the old one-industry hat-making town of Danbury, which went out of its way to provide factory space for a variety of manufacturing companies.

From Washington, D. C., this sort of regional redevelopment, which springs from the civic pride and the unemployed savings of local people, is never very visible. It becomes slightly more visible to politicians in local State capitals. Governor Scranton, sitting in the Pennsylvania capital of Harrisburg, can still keep a sense of proportion about the need for Pennsylvania to control its own plan for its portion of the depressed Applachian highlands. If he could be counted on to keep his roots firmly planted in his own home town of Scranton, he might make the Republican Party a good national candidate, at least for Vice President.

As one becomes older, however, one becomes cynical about all "federalized" politicians. They forget the vitality of the Scranton Plans and the Sanford Movements. And, like Senator Ted Kennedy, they ask for office because they "can do more for Massachusetts." They forget that Massachusetts — and all the other states — hold the key to their own salvation, if they really want to work at it.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Hypertension Can Be Mild; Complications Are Possible

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the difference between "essential" and "malignant" hypertension? My doctor prescribed hydrochlorothiazide. Will I have to take it for the rest of my life? What are its side effects?

A—Essential hypertension is high blood pressure for which no cause is apparent. Some persons have this condition for many years without developing any serious complications. But when complications develop, the condition is known as malignant hypertension. The things your doctor watches for are characteristic changes in the retina, albumin in the urine, a persistent diastolic blood pressure (the lower reading) of more than 110, enlargement of the heart and an apoplectic stroke.

If persons with essential hypertension are given appropriate treatment, they should be able to avoid these complications. But if early signs do occur, it is essential to bring the blood pressure down and keep it down. Hyprochlorothiazide is a diuretic; that is, it is used to combat water-logging

In many persons with high blood pressure it is the only treatment needed, but can be given with other drugs. Side effects include weakness, thirst, nausea and muscle cramps. They are not a reason to stop the medicine but rather to adjust the dosage.

A—Blood tests are used to make a presumptive diagnosisg of syphilis. If positive, other tests are often used to confirm. The best treatment is penicillin or a closely related drug. If the proper dose is used, one injection will give a quick cure in persons who are treated early in the course of the disease before any permanent damage is done to a vital organ.

Q—What is the cause of lupus erythematosus (L.E.)? Can it be aggravated by drugs or hair dyes?

A—The cause of L.E. is unknown. Some authorities believe there is a hereditary factor in some victims. There is a form of L.E. that may be activated by prolonged consumption of large doses of drugs such as procainamide (for irregularities of the pulse), hydralazine (for high blood pressure), diphenylhydantoin or trimethadione (for epilepsy), or isonicotinyl hydrazine for tuberculosis). This form of L.E. is usually mild.

According to the Council on Cosmetics of the American Medical Association, no case of L.E. has even been attributed to a hair dye.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — After 100 speaking engagements on U. S. college campuses in a little over two years, American Communists leaders have decided to push their college lecture program as a major tactic in their drive to whip up public opinion against the McCarran Act, which requires Reds to register.

Their long-range objective is to convince youthful leaders that American communism is somehow different from communism everywhere else—that it's not a subversive conspiracy but a "legitimate political party."

Communist leaders have now evaluated their two-year try-out on the college campuses and are satisfied they're on the right track. The consensus among U. S. Red leaders is that they have been reaching 75,000 or more students and townspoeple a year with these talks.

IN THESE CAMPUS speeches they are attempting to "prove" that 1) communism, if it gains power in the United States, will tolerate opposition political parties; 2) communism in the United States will be achieved through peaceful means; 3) the Communist Party, U. S. A., has no organized ties with other Communist parties; and 4) there can be no comparison between the restrictions now in effect in Communist countries and those communism would mean in the United States.

Although these claims are demonstrably false, reports indicate that in some places students have not been taught the facts they need to flatten the Red statements.

Communist leaders are devoting a great deal of thought and careful planning to their college appearances. They're skillfully constructing their speeches.

Herbert Eugene Aptheker, 48, was granted a Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1943, spent four years in the Army, came out a captain, received a Guggenheim Fellowship in history for 1945-47. Civil Rights Question May Be 'Sleeper' of '64

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The civil rights question may prove the "sleeper" of the 1964 Presidential campaign. Predictions are being made that the measure pending in the House will be enacted within a few weeks and that when the problem is debated in the coming campaign, both Presidential candidates will, of course, support the principle of non-discrimination.

But when it comes to the enforcement of the new law, there is hardly a community in the United States which could not be affected by the possiblity of legal action to be taken by the U. S. Department of Justice, instead of, as heretofore, by local authorities.

There is evidence already that public opinion on the issue may not, in many instances, be openly expressed during the campaign, but will be reflected in the voting.

Two important polls which have just become available indicate that the undercurrent of opposition in all sections of the country is far greater than has been generally realized.

One poll, taken in a canvass of members of the Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO), showed that the civil rights issue was considered to be likely to have an adverse effect on the Democratic ticket. More than 60 per cent of the voters surveyed by the labor-union pollsters said they felt that the Administration was moving too fast on the issue. When an inquiry was directed as to how, in their opinion, the community would vote if the Presidential election were held at the time, the answer was that the people would split almost 50-50 between the Democratic and Republican candidates and that this was due primarily to the attitude of the voters on the civil rights question. The poll was taken last summer, but results were not disclosed until a few days ago.

The same general result was reflected in a poll taken by Macfadden-Bartell Corp. and just published. The two directors of the survey — Everett R. Smith and Lloyd C. Jamieson — have conducted many polls over the years among workers. This poll on the feeling of voters about the "March on Washington" last August revealed that the majority reaction of workers throughout the country afterward was one of disapproval of the march itself as a means of achieving racial equality. The poll also produced a sharp negative regarding all mass demonstrations.

The Macfadden poll showed that three-fifths of the workers disapproved of the march, one-fourth was uncertain and only one-sixth approved. Disapproval was strongest in the South, of course, while approval was strongest in the East.

One-fifth of those who disapproved of the march considered it "a futile gesture at best, with overtones of a setback at the worst." One in nine persons believed that the march was "the wrong approach to the problem, or that with it Negroes were pushing their aims too fast." Among other views were "fear of violence" and "disapproval of Negroes discriminating against whites."

As for the the long-term effects of the march, the response was largely pessimistic. One-fifth believed the march would do more harm than good. Other responses forsaw "white resentment, even bloodshed." The report added: "Half of all respondents think mass demonstrations of any type will harm the Negro cause."

The demonstration idea unquestionably received considerable encouragement by the orderly way the March on Washington was conducted. Because there was no violence and nobody was injured, this was widely taken to mean that the device was a good one.

Today, five months after the March on Washington, the demonstrations are even more numerous in the North than the South. Within the last 24 hours, the news dispatches have told about demonstrations and boycotts in New York City which affected more than half of the city's public schools. One of the Negro leaders, who warned that he could not guarantee that there would be no violence in the demonstrations, declared that any trouble would come from "outsiders" and not from demonstrators, and he urged parents to keep their children home.

To meet this situation, James B. Donovan, prominent lawyer and president of the school board in New York City warned that, if violence erupted during the boycott and any child was injured he would hold one of the Negro leaders responsible before the law.

There are more and more plans being made for boycotts of schools in Northern cities. A second civil rights boycott is scheduled for Feb. 25 against the public schools of Chicago. Other boycotts were scheduled for this week at Chester, Pa.; Cleveland, Ohio; Omaha, Neb.; Cambridge, Md.; Atlanta, Ga., and Boston, Mass.

It seems unrealistic to assume that all the commotion in the Northern cities will not have an impact on the Presidential campaign. In a recent election in Philadelphia, for instance, there were surprising results. The white vote was cast almost solidly against the candidate supported by virtually all of the Negro vote.

If the public-opinion polls among the workers of the country are borne out by the attitude of voters in other segments of the population, the country may be in for a real surprise next autumn in both the Presidential and Congressional contests.

By SOPHIE MILLER

I have received a number of interesting items. Mrs. Herbert F. Lown of 72 Orchard Street sent me the August 1963 Harper's Magazine, which on page 76 has an illustrated article by Noel Perrin called: New York Drowns Another Valley—distant villages and valleys are ravaged by the blades of bulldozers so that careless and wasteful New Yorkers can let their leaky taps run. Two thousand years ago Rome was smarter about controlling water than New York is today. Will quote from it, as I read it carefully.

John A. Weber of 137 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston, brought me the American Legion magazine of December 1963, which on page 16 covers a court experiment in Helena, Montana, on Judge Loble being tough on young criminals. Judge Lester Loble drafted a bill providing open courts for serious juvenile offenders, and sent it to J. Edgar Hoover, who thought it was a good bill, after several years of battle. Montana is the only state which now has open court for young juveniles, the press and public are invited, and crime went down in Montana. The city is as big as ours, and their Independent-Record newspaper devotes space to names, ages, parents' identities, addresses, and verbatim testimony. The article is by Donald John Giese, and will quote more from it, but I thought that while, those who have these two magazines will be interested in both these articles.

I have an interesting letter from Edith M. Hendry of 89 Abruyn Street, Kingston, in which she writes: As Lincoln's birthday is in February, I thought perhaps you and your readers might be interested in a few historical incidents relating to a Kingston family.

Mrs. Hendry's letter continues: In the spring I visited Gettysburg Cemetery where one of my great uncles, Amos Treat is buried. His name appeared in the casualty list of the Kingston Journal Extra of Wednesday morning, July 8, 1863. He and his two brothers, William and Daniel fought with the old Twentieth or Ulster Guard. There was a younger brother, David, who stayed home against his will; a sister Henrietta who was quite gifted as a poetess, and another sister, Anna Elizabeth, who married my grandfather, Aaron Hoes, after the war was over. He fought with the old 120th from 1861-65.

This Treat family was decended from Governor Treat of Connecticut at the time of the Charter Oak episode. The coverage of this incident can be found in the History of the United States Vol. 1 chapter 8, by Julian Hawthorne. The founder of Newark, N. J. was Robert Treat, date 1666. One of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was Robert Treat Payne. Every year in Connecticut there is a reunion of the Treat family.

My sister, Mrs. Hugh Greer Sr. has a small section of the old Charter Oak. I have papers, among which are a letter from Amos to his sister written a 100 years ago; a letter to his father, Alfred A. Treat, Rondout, Ulster Co. from New York State Military Agency, signed by Lt. Col. J. E. Lee, Washington, D. C. This was enclosed with a treasury certificate for one hundred dollars in settlement of a claim for additional bounty in case of Amos C. Treat, deecased. I also have the discharge certificate of Daniel L. Treat, Jan. 29, 1866. I am writhing this for the benefit of grandchildren and the great nieces and nephews. Mrs. Hendry also enclosed a poem combing Lincoln's life and date of events which will quote from later.

GILT ON ECONOMIC LILY

Never mind what the calendar says; this is monsoon season in Washington, when congressmen, reporters and the public are deluged with a rain of figures from the executive branch of the government.

Not surprisingly, these figures prove that Americans have never had it so good and will have it even better—if they know which side their ballots are buttered on.

One of the most frequently cited figures is the GNP — Gross National Product — which is supposedly the total worth of everything in the country: salaries, goods, machines, services, land, buildings, etc.

According to President Johnson, the GNP will reach $623 billion in 1964. This would be an increase of nearly $260 billion since 1954.

There is a flaw in the figure, unfortunately, as columnist David Lawrence was quick to point out, because about 40 per cent of the increase reflects higher prices.

In terms of the buying power of 1954 dollars, 1964 GNP would be $517.4 billion, not $623 billion.

This is still an increase of $154.3 billion over the 1954 GNP, or more than $15 billion a year. That would seem to be a pretty healthy growth rate. It's even higher than the annual deficit. Why inflate it?

The incumbents should know better than to try to gild the economic lily. Their opponents do not lack for paint remover.

SIX YEARS IN SPACE

It's hard to believe, but it is just six years since the first American satellite went into orbit.

On January 31, 1958, at 10:48 p. m., EST, little 30.8-pound Explorer I rode into history atop a Jupiter C rocket (remember that name?). Even though souped-up, its thrust was less than that of the second stage alone of the Saturn I that was just orbited.

Since then Explorer has traveled well over 26,000 times around the earth, covering some 775 million miles.

As befitted the nation's pioneer satellite, Explorer made the most significant early discovery of the Space Age—the discovery of the Van Allen radiation belts that surround the earth.

Explorer I now goes out as far as 1,011.6 miles from earth and swings in as close as 212.5 miles, taking 104.6 minutes for an orbit. It used to be 114.9 minutes, and the difference is the measure of Explorer's dwindling lifetime.

For what goes up must come down, even in the Space Age. NASA scientists compute that Explorer I will plunge back into the atmosphere and incinerate itself sometime in 1966, eight years after launch.

DISEASE OF THE WEEK

It's been diagnosed as "TV medicitis" by Dr. A. M. Aibinder of New York City.

According to the doctor, some viewers become so caught up in medical dramas that they identify with the actors and think they have caught the disease being portrayed.

"Convinced they have the disease, they visit their doctor and even request the treatment they saw administered on television," he says.

This might be an idea for the rating services. Along with asking viewers what they are watching at the moment, they could inquire about what diseases they are suffering from. This would reveal not only current program standings, but any carryover from previous weeks' shows.

Median family income rose from $3,091 in 1949 to $5,660 in 1959. The increase in father's pay almost kept him from going further into debt.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

SCRANTON HAS SYMBOLIZED SELF-HELP

I wouldn't say that President Lyndon Johnson was consciously playing the angles when he sent his wife Lady Bird to the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton region of Pennsylvania to dramatize the federal fight against poverty. But there she was, in the home territory of the Keystone State's own Republican Governor William Warren Scranton, subtly conveying the idea that depression, hard coal and the very name of Scranton (as a town) need the magic touch of Washington, D. C., and its federal plan for Appalachia to bring the sun of affluence to shine upon them.

Such manipulation of the stock symbols of politics is a reflex with a man of Lyndon Johnson's experience, and it need not be conscious. In any case, the President gets away with it because nobody bothers to point out that symbols, like words, can be used to conceal the truth. In this instance the truth is that the name of Scranton, whether it is applied to the city or the first family of that city, is a symbol for inspirational self-help as well as a symbol for chronic depression and a failure to cope with regional poverty.

It is not to be denied, of course, that Appalachia, which includes the hard coal region of Scranton, has been in a bad way. But some twenty years ago the city which the Governor of Pennsylvania calls his home town started to pull itself out of the mire by its own bootstraps. Working under a community plan, local monied people bought the old factories which had been vacated by declining industries. Then, using low rents as the bait, the civic-minded capitalists of Scranton brought in a number of new industries. Electronics companies took the place of defense industries that were no longer profitable. The Scranton community's ancient and chronic reliance on anthracite was at least diluted by the new enterprise of the local citizens. And Bill Scranton, not yet a politician, played his part in his home city's economic revival.

The "Scranton Plan" for self-help has not yet been applied to all cities and towns in the five or six State region of Applachia, but it was taken up in a big way in the depressed areas of New England. In Maine, the Scranton Plan was domesticated as something called the Sanford Movement. This movement, which has spread up and down in Maine, took off from the local enterprise of the old boot and textile town of Sanford, which enticed new industries into old mills that had been deserted.

The Scranton-Sanford idea took hold in Manchester, N. H., where the floors of the ancient textile mills along the Merrimac River were cut up into small areas for a variety of modern industries. Skipping south, the Scranton-Sanford-Manchester type of self-help was domesticated in a number of Massachusetts communities which were faced with the necessity of replacing moribund textile companies with smart new electronics and space-age industries.

In Connecticut, the Scranton-Sanford idea transformed the old one-industry hat-making town of Danbury, which went out of its way to provide factory space for a variety of manufacturing companies.

From Washington, D. C., this sort of regional redevelopment, which springs from the civic pride and the unemployed savings of local people, is never very visible. It becomes slightly more visible to politicians in local State capitals. Governor Scranton, sitting in the Pennsylvania capital of Harrisburg, can still keep a sense of proportion about the need for Pennsylvania to control its own plan for its portion of the depressed Applachian highlands. If he could be counted on to keep his roots firmly planted in his own home town of Scranton, he might make the Republican Party a good national candidate, at least for Vice President.

As one becomes older, however, one becomes cynical about all "federalized" politicians. They forget the vitality of the Scranton Plans and the Sanford Movements. And, like Senator Ted Kennedy, they ask for office because they "can do more for Massachusetts." They forget that Massachusetts — and all the other states — hold the key to their own salvation, if they really want to work at it.

Hypertension Can Be Mild; Complications Are Possible

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the difference between "essential" and "malignant" hypertension? My doctor prescribed hydrochlorothiazide. Will I have to take it for the rest of my life? What are its side effects?

A—Essential hypertension is high blood pressure for which no cause is apparent. Some persons have this condition for many years without developing any serious complications. But when complications develop, the condition is known as malignant hypertension. The things your doctor watches for are characteristic changes in the retina, albumin in the urine, a persistent diastolic blood pressure (the lower reading) of more than 110, enlargement of the heart and an apoplectic stroke.

If persons with essential hypertension are given appropriate treatment, they should be able to avoid these complications. But if early signs do occur, it is essential to bring the blood pressure down and keep it down. Hyprochlorothiazide is a diuretic; that is, it is used to combat waterlogging.

In many persons with high blood pressure it is the only treatment needed, but can be given with other drugs. Side effects include weakness, thirst, nausea and muscle cramps. They are not a reason to stop the medicine but rather to adjust the dosage.

A—Blood tests are used to make a presumptive diagnosisg of syphilis. If positive, other tests are often used to confirm. The best treatment is penicillin or a closely related drug. If the proper dose is used, one injection will give a quick cure in persons who are treated early in the course of the disease before any permanent damage is done to a vital organ.

Q—What is the cause of lupus erythematosus (L.E.)? Can it be aggravated by drugs or hair dyes?

A—The cause of L.E. is unknown. Some authorities believe there is a hereditary factor in some victims. There is a form of L.E. that may be activated by prolonged consumption of large doses of drugs such as procainamide (for irregularities of the pulse), hydralazine (for high blood pressure), diphenylhydantoin or trimethadione (for epilepsy), or isonicotinyl hydrazine for tuberculosis). This form of L.E. is usually mild.

According to the Council on Cosmetics of the American Medical Association, no case of L.E. has even been attributed to a hair dye.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — After 100 speaking engagements on U. S. college campuses in a little over two years, American Communists leaders have decided to push their college lecture program as a major tactic in their drive to whip up public opinion against the McCarran Act, which requires Reds to register.

Their long-range objective is to convince youthful leaders that American communism is somehow different from communism everywhere else—that it's not a subversive conspiracy but a "legitimate political party."

Communist leaders have now evaluated their two-year try-out on the college campuses and are satisfied they're on the right track. The consensus among U. S. Red leaders is that they have been reaching 75,000 or more students and townspoeple a year with these talks.

IN THESE CAMPUS speeches they are attempting to "prove" that 1) communism, if it gains power in the United States, will tolerate opposition political parties; 2) communism in the United States will be achieved through peaceful means; 3) the Communist Party, U. S. A., has no organized ties with other Communist parties; and 4) there can be no comparison between the restrictions now in effect in Communist countries and those communism would mean in the United States.

Although these claims are demonstrably false, reports indicate that in some places students have not been taught the facts they need to flatten the Red statements.

Communist leaders are devoting a great deal of thought and careful planning to their college appearances. They're skillfully constructing their speeches.

I have received a number of interesting items. Mrs. Herbert F. Lown of 72 Orchard Street sent me the August 1963 Harper's Magazine, which on page 76 has an illustrated article by Noel Perrin called: New York Drowns Another Valley—distant villages and valleys are ravaged by the blades of bulldozers so that careless and wasteful New Yorkers can let their leaky taps run. Two thousand years ago Rome was smarter about controlling water than New York is today. Will quote from it, as I read it carefully.

John A. Weber of 137 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston, brought me the American Legion magazine of December 1963, which on page 16 covers a court experiment in Helena, Montana, on Judge Loble being tough on young criminals. Judge Lester Loble drafted a bill providing open courts for serious juvenile offenders, and sent it to J. Edgar Hoover, who thought it was a good bill, after several years of battle. Montana is the only state which now has open court for young juveniles, the press and public are invited, and crime went down in Montana. The city is as big as ours, and their Independent-Record newspaper devotes space to names, ages, parents' identities, addresses, and verbatim testimony. The article is by Donald John Giese, and will quote more from it, but I thought that while, those who have these two magazines will be interested in both these articles.

I have an interesting letter from Edith M. Hendry of 89 Abruyn Street, Kingston, in which she writes: As Lincoln's birthday is in Februaary, I thought perhaps you and your readers might be interested in a few historical incidents relating to a Kingston family.

Mrs. Hendry's letter continues: In the spring I visited Gettysburg Cemetery where one of my great uncles, Amos Treat is buried. His name appeared in the casualty list of the Kingston Journal Extra of Wednesday morning, July 8, 1863. He and his two brothers, William and Daniel fought with the old Twentieth or Ulster Guard. There was a younger brother, David, who stayed home against his will; a sister Henrietta who was quite gifted as a poetess, and another sister, Anna Elizabeth, who married my grandfather, Aaron Hoes ,after the war was over. He fought with the old 120th from 1861-65.

This Treat family was decended from Governor Treat of Connecticut at the time of the Charter Oak episode. The coverage of this incident can be found in the History of the United States Vol. 1 chapter 8, by Julian Hawthorne. The founder of Newark, N. J. was Robert Treat, date 1666. One of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was Robert Treat Payne. Every year in Connecticut there is a reunion of the Treat family.

My sister, Mrs. Hugh Greer Sr. has a small section of the old Charter Oak. I have papers, among which are a letter from Amos to his sister written a 100 years ago; a letter to his father, Alfred A. Treat, Rondout, Ulster Co. from New York State Military Agency, signed by Lt. Col. J. E. Lee, Washington, D. C. This was enclosed with a treasury certificate for one hundred dollars in settlement of a claim for additional bounty in case of Amos C. Treat, deecased. I also have the discharge certificate of Daniel L. Treat, Jan. 29, 1866. I am writhing this for the benefit of grandchildren and the great nieces and nephews. Mrs. Hendry also enclosed a poem combing Lincoln's life and date of events which will quote from later.

County-wide fire siren tests conducted the first Monday of each month by Ulster County Fire Control Center, Golden Hill were not held last night due to a wiring failure and the test is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight.

Winfred Snyder, county fire coordinator said the test did not come off due to a wiring defect.

Sirens in all firehouses in the county, except Kingston will be activated from the control center and a roll taken to determine if sirens in all firehouses are operative.

Snyder said volunteer fire companies in the county should be certain to have a fireman on duty to answer the roll tonight.

Professors Agree Conscience Real Guide on Conflict

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Professors from two major Upstate law schools were in agreement today that a state legislator should be guided by his conscience in avoiding conflicts between his private and public interests.

Conscience—not a strict code of ethics—should prescribe the proper course for a lawmaker who is also a lawyer, says Dean Ralph E. Kharas of the Syracuse University College of Law.

Kharas voiced that view Monday at the second hearing of a three-man committee on legislative ethics. The committee will report to the Legislature by March 10 and rcommend what changes, if any, are needed in the existing code of ethics.

Another hearing will be held tomorrow in Rochester.

Another witness, John W. MacDonald, professor of law at Cornell University, told the committee that a provision barring an attorney from representing a client in an action involving the state in any way amounted to an order telling him he could not practice.

MacDonald said a lawyer's practice would necessarily involve him in matters concerning the state.

Meanwhile, in a related development in Albany, the Senate laid down rules of conduct for Senate employes.

The workers' code touched, among other things, on conflict of interest, outside employment and confidential information.

Principles were outlined in a manual entitled, "You and Your Job in the Working Senate," distributed Monday.

Read Fine Print, Chamber Advises On Contract Deal

In spite of the very competitive price situation in all lines of products today, calls received at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce indicate that many people are still "talked into" paying, or agreeing to pay, from double to five times as much as necessary for many items.

This was a statement made today by Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

"It would pay," Kurdt continued, "for every consumer to obtain and read the "ABC's of Careful Buying" a free leaflet published by the State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz". This leaflet, among many other hints and warnings, states: "The best protection against fraud and deception is an alert and wary consumer". Copies of the leaflet are available at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel building.

Point Number 8 in the Attorney General's leaflet is, "Don't sign a contract without reading it carefully, especially the fine print", and Point Number 10 states, "Don't hestitate to investigate before buying".

Some complainants report that they were approached with the statement, "I'm not here to sell you anything but to make money for you." The reference is obviously to the commission or referral payments promised as a sales gimmick and judging by past performances are seldom paid according to Kurdt. This technique has been used for many years for many items, but it can only be used for a short period of time or until it gets noised around that few if any referral payments are forthcoming.

"Local, established, taxpaying businessmen cannot afford to use these high-pressure sales methods because the purchaser knows where to find them, when he realizes that promises made are not being fulfilled," Kurdt continued.

Many Hundreds Attend Scouting Show at Armory

According to Rip Van Winkle Council Scout officials, attendance at the 1964 Edition of the Scouting Spectacular surpassed all previous records by a wide margin.

Offered Grand Tour

Prior to the Cub Scout Wild West Show, the highlight of the afternoon, visitors made the grand tour of Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer booth exhibits which occupied all available floor space in the armory drill shed.

Many of the scout exhibits, typified by the Troop 9 "Skilloree" booth, provided Scouts and visitors alike with an opportunity to test their personal scouting knowledge and skill.

Exploring, the older boy phase of the scouting program, was represented by a realistic wilderness campsite set up by members of Explorer Post 16, sponsored by Marbletown Reformed Church, Stone Ridge.

In character with the Wild West theme, the packs featured a series of exhibits which included a frontier barber shop, a replica of the Dodge City Jail, an Indian village, a frontier saloon, and a life-sized covered wagon.

Drum Corps Opens Show

The official opening of the afternoon show was preceded by a concert by the championship Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Drum Major Dennis Robinson.

Among the Wild West skits was a simulated Indian attack on a prairie train, a prisoner escape from the Dodge City Jail, the Cub Scout version of the traditional Indian rain dance, and a "high stepping chorus line" from Ox Bow Saloon.

During the awards ceremony, which brought the afternoon phase of the Scouting Spectacular to a fitting climax, the following ribbon awards in order of finish were announced by Robert Tremper of Ulster Park, chairman of the 1964 Scouting Spectacular program.

Relays Are Held

The evening program, which highlighted Boy Scout competitive relays and Scouting skill events, also featured an opening concert by Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps attired in their colorful Indian regalia. Bringing greetings to the assembled Scouts and spectators was William Lohrman, former major league baseball player.

For the second consecutive year, the Scout rally event which proved to be the most exciting for the spectators was the chariot racing, won this year by Troop 6 of Kingston.

A humorous sidelight was also provided in the form of a "blindfold shaving contest." (with cardboard razors), in which scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters participated.

Boy Scout Grand Champs — Troop 10, 31 points; Troop 9, 26 points; and Troop 19, 25 points.

Booth Displays — Troop 19, Troop 9 and Troop 10.

Staged by Staff

The 4th Annual Kingston District Scouting Spectacular was staged by members of the Kingston District Commissioner Staff under the general chairmanship of Assistant District Commissioner Tremper. Participating Commissioners included Richard Waltman, Harold Harrison, Thomas Orr. Louis Gerbon, William Sill, all of Kingston; and Wallace Elston of Stone Ridge.

Other local council and district scouting officials present at the 4th Annual Scouting Spectacular included Kingston District Chairman Clement I. Angstrom; Kingston District C & A Chairman Harrison Cornish, Port Ewen; Council Activities chairman Sherwood Lasher, Kingston; Council Scout Executive Alex Macdonald, Hurley; and District Scout Executive Kenneth Malchow, Rosendale.

Navy Has Satellite To Monitor Solar X-Rays for Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy disclosed today it has secretly launched a satellite to monitor solar X-rays and transmit the information to 15 nations during this period called the "years of the quiet sun."

The satellite may help in eventual development of a system for predicting storms on the sun which bedevil some radio communications on earth and pose a threat to manned space flight.

The Navy in its announcement didn't give details on the size of the spacecraft or when it was launched but indicated it was put into orbit riding piggy-back on some other satellite.

Kingston Cited for Methods Of Promoting Urban Renewal

Public information techniques developed by Kingston Urban Renewal Adviser Alexander Yosman have brought the city national recognition, Mayor John J. Schwenk reported today.

The Mayor said the Housing and Home Finance Agency has cited Kingston's use of mobile information units and a three dimensional project model as unique and effective methods of reaching the people with information on the Broadway East Project.

The story of how Kingston has used these techniques was sent to every Urban Renewal agency in the nation in a special information news letter prepared by HHFA to help local Urban Renewal agencies do a more effective job.

Kingston, New York: The Local Public Agency has developed several unique approaches to its public information program for the purpose of increasing community awareness, interest and understanding of their first urban renewal project. The plan involves the use of the mobile unit of the local radio station as a means of attracting the attention of area site residents to answer their questions and answer unfounded rumors.

ALEXANDER YOSMAN

It has also made use of a 6-by-8 foot model of the project area to explain the purpose of the project. This model was displayed advantageously in stores, banks, and utility offices during the holiday season. It is presently on display in the City Hall, and interested groups in the city are being invited to head an explication of the plan.

The executive committee of the Citizens Advisory Committee, through its development program, has been most active in informing the community and the relocation of families is largely its responsibility. This group plans to enlist the aid and support of local social and fraternal organizations, service clubs, and religious leaders in interpreting and explaining the purposes of the project to their members.

The LPA has proven itself cognizant of particular needs of business facing displacement. An extensive survey of all commercial site occupants has been conducted from the data obtained. The LPA has found information concerning the preferences for location sites of commercial occupants after renewal treatment. It has been proposed that redevelopment plans include all those who have indicated their desires to return, as owner, tenant, or lessee, to the project area.

Urges Concerns

aco, Inc., and president of the Mid Hudson Industrial Association, presided and the speaker was introduced by Henry J. Schellenbach, vice-president-production of New York Trap Rock Corp., vice president of the association and chairman of the forum committee.

MacPherson said that the obvious approach to such a situation is "to build up business in other markets of the free world which now offer such broad opportunities for our products." He advised that it would appear to be "a wise move for any company with exportable products to look further afield and start supplying some markets overseas."

In urging greater attention to foreign trade by the several thousand New York State firms who have yet to enter the international area of commerce, Mac Pherson expressed optimism over the prospects of selling more New York manufactured goods and farm products abroad. He offered the services of his new International Commerce Division to aid such sales programs.

He said that "while Western Europe is already a good customer, its economy has reached the highest levels in history. With a total population in the Common Market countries alone now about equal to that of the United States, they should be a much better customer for our suppliers in the future.

"The general prosperity and rising standards of living have also worked to the advantage of the American manufacturer," he continued. "Their wages and other production costs have also gone up and today our products are competing in the European market on a more equal cost basis than ever before.

"From 1959 to 1963 wage costs per unit of production rose 17 per cent in the Netherlands, 20 per cent in West Germany, 21 per cent in France and 28 per cent in Italy.

"One of the problems facing Europeans manufacturers," MacPherson said, "is that of sufficient skilled labor. Every country is the Common Market is drawing from a dwindling labor pool and they now look to the Mediterranean countries for labor in the production of goods for the American and world market. West Germany, for example, has 800,000 workers imported from Italy, Yugoslavia, Spain and Turkey. Belgium also has announced it is making arrangements with Turkey for additional labor.

Joint Venture Possible

"What this also means to New York State," MacPherson declared, "is that we may interest European manufacturers in establishing branch plants or in making joint venture arrangements with New York firms in order to utilize one of New York's finest assets — its highly skilled labor force."

MacPherson said that aside from developing business in Western Europe for New York State firms and farmers, his Division of International Commerce has stimulated buying inquiries from 80 other nations of the free world.

"State Commerce advertisements promoting both business and travel with New York State appear in foreign newspapers in important overseas markets, and we carry on a world wide direct mail campaign to 62,000 important buyers," he said. "Additionally, we now have an office in Brussels, headquarters of the Common Market, which serves as a direct channel between European businessmen and our world headquarters at 230 Park Avenue in New York City, which is staffed with an expert group of foreign trade specialists who are always available to New York companies wanting help in overseas trade."

MacPherson reported that this overall activity had produced over $30 million in actual sales for New York firms and farmers in one year, and predicted that in the year ahead — the second in the life of the International Commerce Division — results should be significantly better.

Galamison and other civil rights leaders claimed the program was too limited and too slow.

Many Hundreds Attend Scouting Show at Armory

According to Rip Van Winkle Council Scout officials, attendance at the 1964 Edition of the Scouting Spectacular surpassed all previous records by a wide margin.

Offered Grand Tour

Prior to the Cub Scout Wild West Show, the highlight of the afternoon, visitors made the grand tour of Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer booth exhibits which occupied all available floor space in the armory drill shed.

Many of the scout exhibits, typified by the Troop 9 "Skilloree" booth, provided Scouts and visitors alike with an opportunity to test their personal scouting knowledge and skill.

Exploring, the older boy phase of the scouting program, was represented by a realistic wilderness campsite set up by members of Explorer Post 16, sponsored by Marbletown Reformed Church, Stone Ridge.

In character with the Wild West theme, the packs featured a series of exhibits which included a frontier barber shop, a replica of the Dodge City Jail, an Indian village, a frontier saloon, and a life-sized covered wagon.

Drum Corps Opens Show

The official opening of the afternoon show was preceded by a concert by the championship Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps under the leadership of Drum Major Dennis Robinson.

Among the Wild West skits was a simulated Indian attack on a prairie train, a prisoner escape from the Dodge City Jail, the Cub Scout version of the traditional Indian rain dance, and a "high stepping chorus line" from Ox Bow Saloon.

During the awards ceremony, which brought the afternoon phase of the Scouting Spectacular to a fitting climax, the following ribbon awards in order of finish were announced by Robert Tremper of Ulster Park, chairman of the 1964 Scouting Spectacular program.

Relays Are Held

The evening program, which highlighted Boy Scout competitive relays and Scouting skill events, also featured an opening concert by Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps attired in their colorful Indian regalia. Bringing greetings to the assembled Scouts and spectators was William Lohrman, former major league baseball player.

For the second consecutive year, the Scout rally event which proved to be the most exciting for the spectators was the chariot racing, won this year by Troop 6 of Kingston.

A humorous sidelight was also provided in the form of a "blindfold shaving contest." (with cardboard razors), in which scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters participated.

Boy Scout Grand Champs — Troop 10, 31 points; Troop 9, 26 points; and Troop 19, 25 points.

Booth Displays — Troop 19, Troop 9 and Troop 10.

Staged by Staff

The 4th Annual Kingston District Scouting Spectacular was staged by members of the Kingston District Commissioner Staff under the general chairmanship of Assistant District Commissioner Tremper. Participating Commissioners included Richard Waltman, Harold Harrison, Thomas Orr, Louis Gerbon, William Sill, all of Kingston; and Wallace Elston of Stone Ridge.

Other local council and district scouting officials present at the 4th Annual Scouting Spectacular included Kingston District Chairman Clement I. Angstrom; Kingston District C & A Chairman Harrison Cornish, Port Ewen; Council Activities chairman Sherwood Lasher, Kingston; Council Scout Executive Alex Macdonald, Hurley; and District Scout Executive Kenneth Malchow, Rosendale.

Navy Has Satellite To Monitor Solar X-Rays for Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy disclosed today it has secretly launched a satellite to monitor solar X-rays and transmit the information to 15 nations during this period called the "years of the quiet sun."

The satellite may help in eventual development of a system for predicting storms on the sun which bedevil some radio communications on earth and pose a threat to manned space flight.

The Navy in its announcement didn't give details on the size of the spacecraft or when it was launched but indicated it was put into orbit riding piggy-back on some other satellite.

Kingston Cited for Methods Of Promoting Urban Renewal

Public information techniques developed by Kingston Urban Renewal Adviser Alexander Yosman have brought the city national recognition, Mayor John J. Schwenk reported today.

The Mayor said the Housing and Home Finance Agency has cited Kingston's use of mobile information units and a three dimensional project model as unique and effective methods of reaching the people with information on the Broadway East Project.

The story of how Kingston has used these techniques was sent to every Urban Renewal agency in the nation in a special information news letter prepared by HHFA to help local Urban Renewal agencies do a more effective job.

Kingston, New York: The Local Public Agency has developed several unique approaches to its public information program for the purpose of increasing community awareness, interest and understanding of their first urban renewal project. The plan involves the use of the mobile unit of the local radio station as a means of attracting the attention of area site residents to answer their questions and answer unfounded rumors.

ALEXANDER YOSMAN

It has also made use of a 6-by-8 foot model of the project area to explain the purpose of the project. This model was displayed advantageously in stores, banks, and utility offices during the holiday season. It is presently on display in the City Hall, and interested groups in the city are being invited to head an explication of the plan.

The executive committee of the Citizens Advisory Committee, through its development program, has been most active in informing the community and the relocation of families is largely its responsibility. This group plans to enlist the aid and support of local social and fraternal organizations, service clubs, and religious leaders in interpreting and explaining the purposes of the project to their members.

The LPA has proven itself cognizant of particular needs of business facing displacement. An extensive survey of all commercial site occupants has been conducted from the data obtained. The LPA has found information concerning the preferences for location sites of commercial occupants after renewal treatment. It has been proposed that redevelopment plans include all those who have indicated their desires to return, as owner, tenant, or lessee, to the project area.

Urges Concerns

aco, Inc., and president of the Mid Hudson Industrial Association, presided and the speaker was introduced by Henry J. Schellenbach, vice-president-production of New York Trap Rock Corp., vice president of the association and chairman of the forum committee.

MacPherson said that the obvious approach to such a situation is "to build up business in "other markets of the free world which now offer such broad opportunities for our products." He advised that it would appear to be "a wise move for any company with exportable products to look further afield and start supplying some markets overseas."

In urging greater attention to foreign trade by the several thousand New York State firms who have yet to enter the international area of commerce. Mac Pherson expressed optimism over the prospects of selling more New York manufactured goods and farm products abroad. He offered the services of his new International Commerce Division to aid such sales programs.

He said that "while Western Europe is already a good customer, its economy has reached the highest levels in history. With a total population in the Common Market ecuntries alone now about equal to that of the United States, they should be a much better customer for our suppliers in the future.

"The general prosperity and rising standards of living have also worked to the advantage of the American manufacturer," he continued. "Their wages and other production costs have also gone up and today our products are competing in the European market on a more equal cost basis than ever before.

"From 1959 to 1963 wage costs per unit of production rose 17 per cent in the Netherlands, 20 per cent in West Germany, 21 per cent in France and 28 per cent in Italy.

"One of the problems facing Europeans manufacturers," MacPherson said, "is that of sufficient skilled labor. Every country is the Common Market is drawing from a dwindling labor pool and they now look to the Mediterranean countries for labor in the production of goods for the American and world market. West Germany, for example, has 800,000 workers imported from Italy, Yugoslavia, Spain and Turkey. Belgium also has announced it is making arrangements with Turkey for additional labor.

Joint Venture Possible

"What this also means to New York State," MacPherson declared, "is that we may interest European manufacturers in establishing branch plants or in making joint venture arrangements with New York firms in order to utilize one of New York's finest assets — its highly skilled labor force."

MacPherson said that aside from developing business in Western Europe for New York State firms and farmers, his Division of International Commerce has stimulated buying inquiries from 80 other nations of the free world.

"State Commerce advertisements promoting both business and travel with New York State appear in foreign newspapers in important overseas markets, and we carry on a world wide direct mail campaign to 62,000 important buyers," he said. "Additionally, we now have an office in Brussels, headquarters of the Common Market, which serves as a direct channel between European businessmen and our world headquarters at 230 Park Avenue in New York City, which is staffed with an expert group of foreign trade specialists who are always available to New York companies wanting help in overseas trade."

MacPherson reported that this overall activity had produced over $30 million in actual sales for New York firms and farmers in one year, and predicted that in the year ahead — the second in the life of the International Commerce Division — results should be significantly better.

Tillson Pastor Accepts Call to Permanent Post

The present student pastor of the Tillson Reformed Church, Jacob Wielhouwer announced his acceptance of the permanent pastorate of the church at services Sunday.

Mr. Wielhouwer has served the Tillson church since early last summer, first as summer supply and later as student pastor. He is completing his final academic year at Brunswick Seminary, N. J.

A native of The Netherlands, Mr. Wielhouwer moved to Vancouver, British Columbia, in 1957. He later came to the United States studying at Hope College, Holland, Mich. for a year. He went on to achieve high honors at Rutgers University where he graduated in 1960.

Under his guidance, activities at the Tillson church have expanded to include youth programs, study groups and a confirmation class.

JACOB WIELHOUWER

He is one of the originators of the Rondout Valley Parish Plan which went into effect last fall providing strength and unity for the five rural churches participating. The parish council plans union Lenten services starting with an Ash Wednesday service with special music by combined choirs at the Rosendale church.

Mr. Wielhouwer, his wife and six children have made their home at the Tillson parsonage since August.

Dental Health

(This is the second in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Kingston Daily Freeman, in cooperation with The Ulster-Greene Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week February 2 through 8.)

A visit to your dentist may not only lengthen the life of a tooth —it may lengthen your life.

When the dentist examines your mouth, he is looking for more than just decayed teeth. He is concerned with the general aspects of your oral tissues and your entire well-being. Part of his examination covers any suspicious lesions, any abnormal changes in the bone and oral structure patterns and other symptoms of disorders.

Children, as a rule, are not as susceptible to the many serious oral disorders as are adults, but early development of good dental habits and visiting the dentist regularly will help ensure early discovery of a disease when it can be treated before serious complications set in.

On major disorder your dentist is on the alert for is cancer. Oral cancer has a high rate of spreading with a low rate of survival. Eighty per cent of patients with neglected or untreated oral cancer die within 18 months after discovery. Therefore, early detection of oral cancer is essential for survival.

A new smear technique has been developed which is painless, simple but accurate and can be performed by any dental practitioner. The method involves taking smear samples, usually with a spatula-like instrument, from the suspected area of the patient's mouth and examining the cells to determine if they are malignant, a procedure similar to that of the Papanicolaou smear technique in screening for cancer of the uterus.

Oral cancer is not as prevalent as cancer of the uterus, breast, colon and prostate, but oral cancer does have a lower five-year survival rate, and the number of oral cancer patients is increasing each year. In 1962, approximately 36,000 new cases were diagnosed, and 6,000 persons died of oral cancer.

In routine X-ray examinations, dentists have also discovered persons suffering from somethimes fatal systemic disorders. These X-rays show any abnormal change in the bone and oral structure patterns. Such changes could mean that the patient is suffering from a serious thyroid condition or Paget's disease. The dentist probably will recommend that the patient have an immediate complete physical examination.

Pleurisy, hypertension, leukemia and diabetes are a few of the other diseases that may be uncovered through oral examination.

Forty-odd years ago when I played bridge at my fraternity house, one brother was a genius at misplaying the dummy. After he had finished butchering a hand, he would say, "Well! I played it for what it was worth."

Just recently I heard the same expression. While South's play did not approach that of my old friend for sheer horror, it was really played for what it was worth, minus one trick.

Dummy's deuce of spades was played at trick one. East won with the king and South dropped the eight spot. Back came the six of spades and South was in with the queen. From then on South did the best he could with diamonds and clubs, but neither suit broke for him and dummy's ace of spades might as well have been behind the iron curtain for all the good it did South.

Had South been willing to throw away the good queen of spades at trick one, he would have had no trouble making his contract. Of course, he would have had an anxious moment when he led his eight of spades and played dummy's ten, but the ten would have held and South would have had his ninth trick.

Incidentally, this particular winning play is not a rare thing. West might not have held the jack of spades and one of the minor suits might have broken, but it was a better percentage than making that automatic low card play at trick one.

Levitt Disagrees With Hoch About Cuts for Hospitals

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The heads of two key departments of New York State government were at odds today over economies proposed for the state's mental hospitals.

Dr. Paul H. Hoch, state mental hygiene commissioner, charges the state comptroller's office made recommendations the commissioner says would turn mental hospitals into "human warehouses."

Comptroller Arthur Levitt disagrees, saying Hoch's statement "liberally misconstrued" the audit report on hospital operations.

The Levitt report was issued last week. Levitt said his auditors found the state could save about $1 million a year by economizing.

Hoch charged that Levitt's recommendations "include distortion of the facts and reveal vast misunderstandings" of the operation of mental hospitals.

Levitt replied Monday that he deeply regretted that the Mental Hygiene Department "chose to resist our suggestions rather than to promote increased efficiency."

The dispute stemmed from auditors' complaints that the Mental Hygiene Department was spending too much for drugs, was paying private-hospital insurance for employes treated in its own infirmaries, that Binghamton State Hospital was overstaffed and that the department was losing money on room and board it provided for its employes.

More Witnesses Called In Railroad's Behalf

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Delaware & Hudson Railroad summoned more witnesses and statistics today in its bid to drop two daytime runs between Albany and Montreal by its train, "The Laurentian."

The railroad pressed its case at the second day a resumed hearing conducted by the Public Service Commission.

The D. & H asserted Monday it spent $2 for every $1 received for dining and club-car service on "The Laurentian."

The railroad has reported losing $200,000 a year on the two trains. Service on two Laurentian night runs would not be affected by the plan for discontinuance.

Senate Has CR Bid

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate had before it today a bipartisan resolution urging Congress to pass a strong civil-rights bill.

The measure cleared the Assembly Monday on a unanimous vote. Similar approval was expected in the Senate.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "You can't go on playing juveniles when you've got gray hair," reasons Marshall Thompson. That helps explain his search for a new career, a quest that took him deep into the jungles of Viet Nam.

Marshall is the tall, slender actor who played many a boy-next-door at MGM a decade ago. He left the lot to play the independent field, as well as star in the "Angel" television series. But as strands of gray began to creep into his blond thatch, he realized he needed a new dynamic in his career.

"I wanted to make a movie of my own—to direct, produce and act in it," he said. "I figured the best chance to hit the market would be to make a good war story that was timely. And what could be more timely than the war in Viet Nam?"

He collaborated with a writer on a script which seemed workable. Then there was the matter of financing. Marshall happened to discuss his plan with a well-heeled neighbor.

"If you've got that much faith in the project, I'll put my money into it," said the neighbor.

So Marshall embarked for the Philippines, where he intended to shoot the film. The Viet Nam consul there persuaded him that it would be possible to make the movie in the actual locale. The one-man film company moved to Saigon, where he enlisted a crew and equipment from the local industry. He also used a cameraman, special effects man and two actors from the Philippines.

"I had hoped to shoot the picture in five weeks," said Marshall, the only Caucasian in the company. "It took seven. The language barrier was enormous. We had to move the location every 10 days.

"The authorities said we were safe in Saigon, but they couldn't assure our safety outside. We were shooting from 5 to 30 miles outside the city, and we got used to hearing the pup-pup-pup of gunfire during a love scene.

"The reason we had to move every 10 days was simple. We were being watched by the Viet Cong at all times. Our scouts figured it took the Viet Cong five days to report our whereabouts to headquarters and five days to return with troops."

Once the company didn't move soon enough. Marshall said he felt a burning sensation on his back and discovered he had been grazed by a rifle shot. One actor was shot through the hand.

Marshall came back to Hollywood with 55,000 feet of film, which he fashioned into a feature. Both Allied Artists and MGM wanted to release it, but he chose Allied because he figured a smaller company would give the film more push. It has been titled "A Yank in Viet Nam" and will be released with a Van Heflin war film, "Cry of Battle."

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald W. Whitehead, assistant attorney general of Massachusetts, and Robert C. Hahn, a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, will direct Gov. Rockefeller's presidential campaign in their state.

Phoenicia Pack Starts Campaign For New Members

The old saying "the more the merrier", which is particularly appropriate to cub pack meetings, prompted Cubmaster James Hefferan, at the January meeting of Pack 60, to hold a special session with the parents. He asked their help in interesting other parents of eligible boys to become members and discover the fun they have been missing. The more boys that belong to a den and the more dens that go to make up the pack the more fun it is for all. "Boys like to belong to a gang and the cub scouts are a gang of good guys," Hefferan said.

Following the opening flag ceremony advancements and awards were presented to the following cubs:

Timothy Short advanced to Wolf; Stephen Estes was awarded a gold arrow under Bear; Donald Gale and Kris Wood were awarded silver arrows under Bear and Kris received a one-year pin; John Ford, denner stripe; Daniel Shultis, assistant denner stripe; Randolph Wilkinson and James Smith, one-year pins; Alberto Mousett, two-year pin and Daniel Estes a three-year pin.

Den 1 under the supervision of Den Mother Barbara Maxwell presented a skit in keeping with the January theme of Preparedness. Each member of the den had a part as a member of a family sitting around a table discussing and planning the function of each in case of a major disaster.

The cubmaster advised that the period from February 7 through the 13 would be Scout Week and appropriate to this occasion Pack 60 would have a window display in Gordon's Drug Store.

Refreshments were served following which the parents and the committee met in a separate room while the boys, under adult supervision, participated in games.

Self-Conscious Facing Cameras

Johnson Is Driver Rather Than Good Showman on TV

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lucky Calvin Coolidge was president when the strong silent type was still an American ideal. It fitted him fine. He didn't have much to say anyway. When he did use radio, it was dismal.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt went on radio every time he thought it useful, and he used news conferences, too, although the latter weren't on radio and there wasn't television.

He became a kind of national father by the sheer magic of his humorous, barbed, consoling, concerned and always controlled voice. No wonder he stayed in office. Who wants to throw out the head of the family?

Now radio and television have made a president an almost constant showman. This can be a political help. But when he has to keep asking himself—how am I doing?—in order to stay in focus, it's bound to make him self-conscious.

This was how he wanted to appear, of course, and he did it all with great ease and grace.

But no one watching, either at one of his news conferences or on television, could escape the feeling he was conscious of the whole country observing his every expression and gesture, and judging accordingly.

President Johnson in public has neither Kennedy's wit nor ease. He not only looks far more self-conscious than his predecessor but acts that way. For example, at last Saturday's news conference, which was televised.

Johnson is a hearty, positive, ebullient man. Saturday he looked deliberately subdued, almost mournful with dignity, and certainly not too positive on at least one area of foreign affairs.

This was when he gave his views on French President de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia. Later, after some conversations with the State Department, his aides sought to clarify his meaning.

The whole performance appeared unnatural for a man of Johnson's zip. This probably explains why he still hasn't settled on any one way to hold a news conference.

Even so, with the statements he has made, the policies he has announced, the programs he has mentioned to Congress, and his few solemn public talks on television, he has done well politically.

The evidence is in the public opinion polls which show him ahead of all the would-be presidential candidates among the Republicans.

That's his relentless driving energy—the endless hours, the deluge of telephone calls, the White House sessions with his aides, the conferences with members of Congress—to push through what he wants done.

In this particular area — the energy, drive, follow-up and determination to keep trying—Kennedy could never match him. Kennedy's biggest defect, perhaps, was lack of pursuit, his failures to hammer on Congress to get what he wanted.

More Witnesses Called In Railroad's Behalf

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Delaware & Hudson Railroad summoned more witnesses and statistics today in its bid to drop two daytime runs between Albany and Montreal by its train, "The Laurentian."

The railroad pressed its case at the second day of a resumed hearing conducted by the Public Service Commission.

The D & H asserted Monday it spent $2 for every $1 received for dining and club-car service on "The Laurentian."

The railroad has reported losing $200,000 a year on the two trains. Service on two Laurentian night runs would not be affected by the plan for discontinuance.

Self-Conscious Facing Cameras

Johnson Is Driver Rather Than Good Showman on TV

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lucky Calvin Coolidge was president when the strong silent type was still an American ideal. It fitted him fine. He didn't have much to say anyway. When he did use radio, it was dismal.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt went on radio every time he thought it useful, and he used news conferences, too, although the latter weren't on radio and there wasn't television.

He became a kind of national father by the sheer magic of his humorous, barbed, consoling, concerned and always controlled voice. No wonder he stayed in office. Who wants to throw out the head of the family?

Now radio and television have made a president an almost constant showman. This can be a political help. But when he has to keep asking himself—how am I doing?—in order to stay in focus, it's bound to make him self-conscious.

This was how he wanted to appear, of course, and he did it all with great ease and grace.

But no one watching, either at one of his news conferences or on television, could escape the feeling he was conscious of the whole country observing his every expression and gesture, and judging accordingly.

President Johnson in public has neither Kennedy's wit nor ease. He not only looks far more self-conscious than his predecessor but acts that way. For example, at last Saturday's news conference, which was televised.

Johnson is a hearty, positive, ebullient man. Saturday he looked deliberately subdued, almost mournful with dignity, and certainly not too positive on at least one area of foreign affairs.

This was when he gave his views on French President de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia. Later, after some conversations with the State Department, his aides sought to clarify his meaning.

The whole performance appeared unnatural for a man of Johnson's zip. This probably explains why he still hasn't settled on any one way to hold a news conference.

Even so, with the statements he has made, the policies he has announced, the programs he has mentioned to Congress, and his few solemn public talks on television, he has done well politically.

The evidence is in the public opinion polls which show him ahead of all the would-be presidential candidates among the Republicans.

Unfortunately for him, his greatest asset is one which simply can't be shown on a screen.

That's his relentless driving energy—the endless hours, the deluge of telephone calls, the White House sessions with his aides, the conferences with members of Congress—to push through what he wants done.

In this particular area — the energy, drive, follow-up and determination to keep trying—Kennedy could never match him. Kennedy's biggest defect, perhaps, was lack of pursuit, his failures to hammer on Congress to get what he wanted.

KNOWING THEY WILL BE AWAY

Q: I am going to be married soon and was planning to ask the people with whom I work to my wedding. Two of the men will be away on busienss trips. Will you please tell me what to do?

A: Send them invitations so that they will know you would like them to come. There is the possibility that their trips may be cancelled or that they may return in time to go to your wedding. An invitation of itself carries no obligation to send a present.

Q: When playing cards, shouldn't they be left on the table until the dealer has finished dealing them all out? Quite a few people pick up each card as it is dealt, which I think is wrong and very annoying. May I please have your opinion.

We The Women

Before You're Too Old - - -

"The frightening thing about growing older" writes a woman reader of this column, "is seeing how a community pushes its older citizens aside.

"My husband and I still have a few years to go before retirement, but I know already what will happen to us when that day comes, because I have seen it happen to those who are older than we are.

"They aren't asked to give up membership in their clubs and organizations—but they are never given any important jobs to do. If they speak up in meeting, they are listened to with impatience. Younger members expect older ones to take a back seat and keep quiet.

"Nobody calls on older people who have time, experience and, often, wisdom to do community work. They are left with nothing important to do while younger citizens take on more jobs than they can do well.

"Social life all too often excludes the older age group—no matter how much they have to offer, or how socially active they have been through the years.

"Even though I am confident that my husband and I will never lose our interest in others or the world about us—it must be hard to stay active and alert and happy in old age when the world loses interest in you."

That's quite a harsh indictment, but unfortunately it's true.

Just look around and see what is happening to those who have reached old age ahead of you.

Do you want it to happen to you, when it's your turn? It will, unless your community makes a real effort to include its older citizens in its active life.

We The Women

Before You're Too Old - - -

"The frightening thing about growing older" writes a woman reader of this column, "is seeing how a community pushes its older citizens aside.

"My husband and I still have a few years to go before retirement, but I know already what will happen to us when that day comes, because I have seen it happen to those who are older than we are.

"They aren't asked to give up membership in their clubs and organizations—but they are never given any important jobs to do. If they speak up in meeting, they are listened to with impatience. Younger members expect older ones to take a back seat and keep quiet.

"Nobody calls on older people who have time, experience and, often, wisdom to do community work. They are left with nothing important to do while younger citizens take on more jobs than they can do well.

"Social life all too often excludes the older age group—no matter how much they have to offer, or how socially active they have been through the years.

"Even though I am confident that my husband and I will never lose our interest in others or the world about us—it must be hard to stay active and alert and happy in old age when the world loses interest in you."

That's quite a harsh indictment, but unfortunately it's true.

Just look around and see what is happening to those who have reached old age ahead of you.

Do you want it to happen to you, when it's your turn? It will, unless your community makes a real effort to include its older citizens in its active life.

Trends for Breakfast Foods

Many cereal foods have decreased in use over the years, but not breakfast cereals. New varieties, new variations of old ones, new methods of packaging, and advertising have helped maintain consumption. While per capita use of breakfast cereals is about the same today as in the early 1900's, some significant shifts have occurred in our use of ready-to-eat (cold) cereals and to-be-cooked (hot) cereals, says Louise M. Kakargo, assistant home demonstration agent.

Oat cereals have continued in popular demand despite the general decline in use of all cereals that require cooking before eating. In 1947 oat products accounted for a little over 60 per cent of the per capita consumption of to-be-cooked breakfast cereals, and by 1958, for almost 75 per cent. While our per capita use of oat products declined from 2.9 to 2.6 pounds, or 10 per cent, between 1947 and 1958 our use of all to-be-cooked breakfast cereals dropped 25 per cent.

In 1958 wheat products accounted for 33 per cent of our consumption of ready-to-eat breakfast cereals, corn products for 30 per cent, and other and mixed grains, for 37 per cent. Between 1947 and 1958 our ready-to-eat corn cereal consumption increased considerably while that of wheat cerals declined very slightly. The fastest growing type of ready-to-eat cereals were made from other and mixed grains, particularly oats and rice. During the same period the consumption rate of these products nearly doubled .

The growth in the variety of ready-to-eat cereals is striking. Shopping the New York market for the brands of both hot and cold cereals sold most widely in 1963, "Consumer Reports" surveyors counted 31 brands, mainly in packages of a single size.

In highly processed products such as corn flakes and rolled oats, the cost of the basic material, corn and oats, represents only a small part of the final price. Such processing costs as transportation, labor, utilities, and rent represent a large part of the final price. Even if the price of corn and oats should rise steeply, the price of corn flakes and rolled oats would not change as much. From 1949 to date the price of corn and oats has been relatively stable compared with processing costs which have risen fairly steeply causing the price of corn flakes and rolled oats to rise more than the average for all foods.

Another factor contributing to the rise in breakfast cereal prices is the increase in variety of products. Retail stores have increasingly carried smaller inventories of each variety. This in turn has required faster and more frequent delivery service to keep store shelves stocked.

Salvation Army '63 Report Indicates Successful Year

"The basic premise of love of God, of Country and of fellow man is the community service challenge that speaks an international language," so said Major William Harvey in his stirring address to the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Major Harvey, an officer of Eastern Divisional Headquarters, was the guest speaker at the banquet held recently at the Old Dutch Church, where the meeting was preceeded by a dinner prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. Hollis Burhans.

Among the invited guests were Mayor and Mrs. John Schwenk. The Mayor also addressed the group, extending on behalf of the city, appreciation of the Army's continuous service to those in need.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Geraldine Nathan, who sang several solos, accompanied by Mrs. William Rylance; and by Mrs. Chris Geisler, who presented piano music during the dinner hour.

Oscar V. Newkirk, chairman of the Advisory Board presided during the business session, expressing recognition to all who had made this a successful year and especially to those local service groups which had manned the Christmas Kettles.

The annual business report was prepared by local corps officer, Major Jacob Hohn, with an itemized 1963 budget of $23,074 — of this $9,269 was derived from the local United Chest Fund. From this budget the following impressive services were provided.

Religious and character building activities: 463 adult services; 313 youth meetings with attendance totalling almost 10,000, plus 412 hours of pastoral visits and counseling.

Community service: General Family Welfare — meals and over night lodging, 778; food orders, 161; garments, 4866; pairs of shoes, 283; 15 children attended camp at no cost to parents.

Special Christmas Project supplied — 102 families with Christmas dinners; 460 children with toys; 1800 individual gift bags to institutions and nursing homes.

Boyd Miller, chairman of the nominating committee, proposed re-election of the present slate of officers and this was unanimously voted.

The officers of the Advisory Board are: Oscar V. Newkirk, chairman; Ernest Rowe, vice-chairman; Oscar Lawatsch, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Oudemool, secretary.

Reminiscences About Leoderer

"Dear Hanus:

"We were glad to hear from you, especially from Woodstock, where I spent many weeks in my early days in the USA (1914 and on). These were happy times, indeed. We were a bunch of happy-go-lucky artists with no particular care and lots of time ahead. Woodstock at that time was practically unknown to the outside world. In Bearsville, there was on old-time general store where we sat on barrels around an iron stove and warmed up. And telling them folk tales from Europe which was also quite unknown to them; could have been on Mars . . ."

The author of this letter which arrived a few days ago from Vienna, Austria, is Richard A. Loederer. Who is he? "A personality as interesting as any of his subjects," writes Lyon Mearson.

Who's Who In America includes an extensive biographical sketch and a long list of works by the Viennese-born American artist-writer who painted the colorful murals for the Semers Hotel in Bermuda, the decorations for the Canadian National Exposition in Toronto and similar works of art in Hollywood, New York and London. To those who deny the possible combination of genuine inventive art and commercial art, I would say: "Look at Loederer, he is the best specimen, the personification of this type."

Humble Beginning

In the beginning of his American career, he didn't shun to design the subway publicity for Goodman Noodles. Later he found his own subjects. Due to his international reputation he was recently commissioned to design the new postal stamps for the Republic of Liberia.

The names which Loederer choose are collective titles for an entire series. There is, for example, a series called The American Scene with quaint streets in New Orleans, with scenes from the rugged Pacific coast. The Continental Scene shows boulevards and byways of Paris, timeless Italy, forgotten castles in the Danube valley. There are series of animals with tropical fish, exotic sceneries of Arabia, Persia reminding us of the fairy tale world of the Arabian Nights.

One series is called Africa Fetishes, another Jungle Magic. Loederer did not forget the historic ships and the antique automobiles and, last but not least, his Immortal Men of Music (from Bach to Fritz Kreisler) and the hilarious silhouettes of famous composers. His Pan-American Hall of Fame was exhibited in Washington, D. C. and then in Caracas during the Simon Bolivar celebration.

Loederer seems reluctant to retire. He still does every other week—as he has been doing for the last 25 years— a full page cartoon for a trade paper in New York Besides, he just finished an outdoor mural and facade of the Blondel Tavern in the ancient town of Durenstein.

Wife Was Singer

Remember, that's the place where the minstrel Blondel found his master, Richard the Lion-Hearted, who then was a prisoner in the Durenstein Castle. So, Loederer did a similar job as Marcel in the third act of La Boheme. Loederer's wife is not called Musette but Carina, which means darling. Carina was born in Finland and was quite active as a singer when still a resident of New York City.

Loederer's reputation as a writer was established when his book, "Voodoo Fire on Haiti" became a best-seller and was chosen as the Book of the Month by the Literary Guild. The Loederers still like to travel. If they are in the mood. they might just hop into a plane to see Princess Grace of Monaco or visit Carina's relatives in Sweden and Finland.

And why doesn't he retire, dear Richard Loederer? Because he is retired and was so all his life by doing always what he liked to do. I do understand him quite well because, in this respect, his philosophy is exactly the same as my own. There is no greater blessing in this world that health combined with work that one loves to do. . .H. A. SCHIMMERLING.

Gerardia's Art Is Widely Shown

Helen Gerardia, painter and printmaker of Woodstock and New York, gave a demonstration on the techniques involved in the making of a lithograph on stone as a feature of the 22nd Annual of the Audubon Artists of which she is a member.

Miss Gerardia is showing her prints in two one-man shows during February at Sage College, Troy, and at Daytona Beach Junior College in Florida. She also has two shows of paintings at Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pa., and Kansas Wesleyan University at Salina, Kan.

Two of her paintings are currently displayed at Lever House in New York with the New York Society of Women Artists and the Blanden Memorial Art Gallery in Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Queen Mother Is Doing Very Well After Operation

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth underwent a successful emergency appendectomy today which forced her to cancel a 30,000-mile trip to Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Sir Arthur Porritt, the royal surgeon, said the operation on the 63-year-old mother of Britain's reigning queen, lasted about half an hour.

"The queen mother is very well," Porritt told newsmen, "but she will not receive any visitors today."

Stricken with acute pain after church Sunday, the queen mother was taken to the King Edward Hospital for Officers in London Monday night.

She had been scheduled to leave on her six-week tour Friday.

A woman of matronly charm, the queen mother holds a high place in the British public's affection.

The fastest growing type of ready-to-eat cereals were made from other and mixed grains, particularly oats and rice. During the same period the consumption rate of these products nearly doubled .

The growth in the variety of ready-to-eat cereals is striking. Shopping the New York market for the brands of both hot and cold cereals sold most widely in 1963, "Consumer Reports" surveyors counted 31 brands, mainly in packages of a single size.

In highly processed products such as corn flakes and rolled oats, the cost of the basic material, corn and oats, represents only a small part of the final price. Such processing costs as transportation, labor, utilities, and rent represent a large part of the final price. Even if the price of corn and oats should rise steeply, the price of corn flakes and rolled oats would not change as much. From 1949 to date the price of corn and oats has been relatively stable compared with processing costs which have risen fairly steeply causing the price of corn flakes and rolled oats to rise more than the average for all foods.

Another factor contributing to the rise in breakfast cereal prices is the increase in variety of products. Retail stores have increasingly carried smaller inventories of each variety. This in turn has required faster and more frequent delivery service to keep store shelves stocked.

Salvation Army '63 Report Indicates Successful Year

"The basic premise of love of God, of Country and of fellow man is the community service challenge that speaks an international language," so said Major William Harvey in his stirring address to the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Major Harvey, an officer of Eastern Divisional Headquarters, was the guest speaker at the banquet held recently at the Old Dutch Church, where the meeting was preceeded by a dinner prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. Hollis Burhans.

Among the invited guests were Mayor and Mrs. John Schwenk. The Mayor also addressed the group, extending on behalf of the city, appreciation of the Army's continuous service to those in need.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Geraldine Nathan, who sang several solos, accompanied by Mrs. William Rylance; and by Mrs. Chris Geisler, who presented piano music during the dinner hour.

Oscar V. Newkirk, chairman of the Advisory Board presided during the business session, expressing recognition to all who had made this a successful year and especially to those local service groups which had manned the Christmas Kettles.

The annual business report was prepared by local corps officer, Major Jacob Hohn, with an itemized 1963 budget of $23,074 — of this $9,269 was derived from the local United Chest Fund. From this budget the following impressive services were provided.

Religious and character building activities: 463 adult services; 313 youth meetings with attendance totalling almost 10,000, plus 412 hours of pastoral visits and counseling.

Community service: General Family Welfare — meals and over night lodging, 778; food orders, 161; garments, 4866; pairs of shoes, 283; 15 children attended camp at no cost to parents.

Special Christmas Project supplied — 102 families with Christmas dinners; 460 children with toys; 1800 individual gift bags to institutions and nursing homes.

Boyd Miller, chairman of the nominating committee, proposed re-election of the present slate of officers and this was unanimously voted.

Scout Troop 62 In First Winter Camping Outing

Boy Scout Troop 62 of Lake Hill, sponsored by Woodstock Fire Company No. 3 of the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady area, held its first winter camping trip last weekend.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Arthur Smith and Assistant Scoutmaster Douglas S. Eighmey, the entire troop spent the weekend at the Boy Scout Camp Tri Mount Scout Reservation in East Jewett.

Members of the troop committee delivered the scouts at the East Jewett site on Friday evening, and they were returned to their homes on Sunday afternoon. During the weekend, the troop hiked over the scout reservation, participated in games, and studied skills.

Boy Scout Troop 62 meets every Monday evening at the firehouse in Lake Hill, from 7 to 9 p. m. Boys of the area who are eleven years of age and interested in Boy Scout activities are invited to meet at the firehouse and join with Troop 62.

Reminiscences About Leoderer

"Dear Hanus:

"We were glad to hear from you, especially from Woodstock, where I spent many weeks in my early days in the USA (1914 and on). These were happy times, indeed. We were a bunch of happy-go-lucky artists with no particular care and lots of time ahead. Woodstock at that time was practically unknown to the outside world. In Bearsville, there was on old-time general store where we sat on barrels around an iron stove and warmed up. And telling them folk tales from Europe which was also quite unknown to them; could have been on Mars . . ."

The author of this letter which arrived a few days ago from Vienna, Austria, is Richard A. Loederer. Who is he? "A personality as interesting as any of his subjects," writes Lyon Mearson.

Who's Who In America includes an extensive biographical sketch and a long list of works by the Viennese-born American artist-writer who painted the colorful murals for the Semers Hotel in Bermuda, the decorations for the Canadian National Exposition in Toronto and similar works of art in Hollywood, New York and London. To those who deny the possible combination of genuine inventive art and commercial art, I would say: "Look at Loederer, he is the best specimen, the personification of this type."

Humble Beginning

In the beginning of his American career, he didn't shun to design the subway publicity for Goodman Noodles. Later he found his own subjects. Due to his international reputation he was recently commissioned to design the new postal stamps for the Republic of Liberia.

The names which Loederer choose are collective titles for an entire series. There is, for example, a series called The American Scene with quaint streets in New Orleans, with scenes from the rugged Pacific coast. The Continental Scene shows boulevards and byways of Paris, timeless Italy, forgotten castles in the Danube valley. There are series of animals with tropical fish, exotic sceneries of Arabia, Persia reminding us of the fairy tale world of the Arabian Nights.

One series is called Africa Fetishes, another Jungle Magic. Loederer did not forget the historic ships and the antique automobiles and, last but not least, his Immortal Men of Music (from Bach to Fritz Kreisler) and the hilarious silhouettes of famous composers. His Pan-American Hall of Fame was exhibited in Washington, D. C. and then in Caracas during the Simon Bolivar celebration.

Loederer seems reluctant to retire. He still does every other week—as he has been doing for the last 25 years— a full page cartoon for a trade paper in New York Besides, he just finished an outdoor mural and facade of the Blondel Tavern in the ancient town of Durenstein.

Wife Was Singer

Remember, that's the place where the minstrel Blondel found his master, Richard the Lion-Hearted, who then was a prisoner in the Durenstein Castle. So, Loederer did a similar job as Marcel in the third act of La Boheme. Loederer's wife is not called Musette but Carina, which means darling. Carina was born in Finland and was quite active as a singer when still a resident of New York City.

Loederer's reputation as a writer was established when his book, "Voodoo Fire on Haiti" became a best-seller and was chosen as the Book of the Month by the Literary Guild. The Loederers still like to travel. If they are in the mood, they might just hop into a plane to see Princess Grace of Monaco or visit Carina's relatives in Sweden and Finland.

And why doesn't he retire, dear Richard Loederer? Because he is retired and was so all his life by doing always what he liked to do. I do understand him quite well because, in this respect, his philosophy is exactly the same as my own. There is no greater blessing in this world that health combined with work that one loves to do. . .H. A. SCHIMMERLING.

Gerardia's Art Is Widely Shown

Helen Gerardia, painter and printmaker of Woodstock and New York, gave a demonstration on the techniques involved in the making of a lithograph on stone as a feature of the 22nd Annual of the Audubon Artists of which she is a member.

Miss Gerardia is showing her prints in two one-man shows during February at Sage College, Troy, and at Daytona Beach Junior College in Florida. She also has two shows of paintings at Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pa., and Kansas Wesleyan University at Salina, Kan.

Two of her paintings are currently displayed at Lever House in New York with the New York Society of Women Artists and the Blanden Memorial Art Gallery in Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Ministers Draw Wrath, Terms; Woman Is Judge

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) (AP) — A woman judge gave nine out-of-state Presbyterian ministers a stern lecture on citizenship and a four-month jail term Monday for picketing in support of a Negro voter-registration drive here.

The nine were convicted of disorderly conduct by City Judge Mildred Norris for refusing to follow police directions in their picketing.

They were arrested last week for picketing inside a corridor formed by barricades leading into the front door of the Forrest County Courthouse.

The nine were The Rev. Donald B. Register, a Negro from St. Louis; The Rev. Ralph Bohn of Garfield, N.Y.; The Rev. Emil Hattoon of Decatur, Ill.; The Rev. Ronald A. James of Otisville, N.Y.; The Rev. Queen Mother Is Doing Very Well After Operation

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth underwent a successful emergency appendectomy today which forced her to cancel a 30,000-mile trip to Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Sir Arthur Porritt, the royal surgeon, said the operation on the 63-year-old mother of Britain's reigning queen, lasted about half an hour.

"The queen mother is very well," Porritt told newsmen, "but she will not receive any visitors today."

Stricken with acute pain after church Sunday, the queen mother was taken to the King Edward Hospital for Officers in London Monday night.

She had been scheduled to leave on her six-week tour Friday.

1964 Expansion to Be Along Different Lines, New Reasons

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This year may turn out to be less of a carbon copy of 1963 than many business forecasters believe. There are different forces at work this year.

The adjectives usually used to describe 1963 are bigger and better. Most predictions so far have pictured 1964 as becoming even bigger and still better.

But some economists, particularly in the banking world, are now pointing out the factors that could make this year quite different from its predecessor. They still think, however, that business expansion will continue—it'll just be along new lines and for other reasons.

The chief factors that made 1963 bigger and better than first expected are listed by economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, as record auto sales, a good rise in homebuilding, a large increase in government spending and a sizable expansion in money and credit. The bank economists see all four likely to play a smaller role this year.

Not Same Rate as 1963

Both the auto and the home industries should have a good 1964, the economists agree. But they doubt if there will be an expansion in car and house sales at the same rate as in 1963. They also look for the Federal Reserve Board to keep expansion of credit smaller this year, in fear of inflation if for no other reason. And they see President Johnson's economy drive, if carried through, leading to little or no increase in federal spending after mid-1964.

A chief new influence on this year's economy is the federal tax cut, now expected by the end of this month. How much of an influence, and on what sectors of the economy, is in considerable dispute.

But bankers especially are watching its possible effect on money and credit and on inflation, or further rise in prices.

Warning Given

The Federal Reserve has warned that under some conditions credit might have to be tightened and interest rates allowed to rise.

Agreeing with this, the economists at the First National City Bank, New York, point out: "With the boost that demand will be getting from the tax cut, a further stimulus from easy money scarcely seems wise. If we are not to develop an unsustainable rate of expansion and borrow business from 1965, a monetary policy of judicious restraint may well be needed to create a climate in which price stability can be achieved."

Prices Rising Already

Prices already are rising here and there, and increasing prosperity could furnish the climate for a widening of this trend. In the business sector this might upset one of the factors that made for stability in 1963 and bolstered hopes for 1964: moderation in the matter of inventories.

Economists at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York warn that "there is a risk that rising prices will spur stockbuilding."

But on the whole, they see the present inventory situation as quite healthy. The current business upswing is aging, as such economic cycles go, and at this stage stockbuilding usually is a factor in spurring business along. But the Federal Reserve economists note that "inventory levels relative to sales are now well below the levels reached at comparable stages of earlier postwar business cycles."

"Given the present inventory situation, there is little reason to expect that a recession will be triggered or fed by desires to reduce existing stocks, a condition that has been important in previous downturns," they add.

Highland Hosts Senior Seminar Dinner Meeting

Highland High School was host recently to over 120 students, board members, and administrators at the second annual senior seminar dinner. The evening was designed to acquaint the board members of the seven participating schools not only with the seminar program, but also with the students who attend the seminar sessions.

After the invocation, pronounced by the Rev. Gerret Wullschleger of the New Paltz Reformed Church, a dinner was served by Highland High School students under the supervision of Mrs. Ann Toogood, Highland's dietician. Guests were then officially welcomed by Cranston Covell, principal of Highland High School, Leo Rizzo, president of the Highland Board of Education, and Miss Patricia Jones, a senior at Highland High School and one of the participants in the seminar program..

The group then moved to the auditorium where George Fernandez, coordinator of the Senior Seminar Program, introduced the speaker for the evening, Dr. Charles Siepmann, chairman of the department of communications in education at New York University. Dr. Siepmann's topic was Thinking Straight and Propaganda.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The withdrawal of Lucille Ball from weekly situation comedy has hit CBS where it hurts most—in the powerful lineup of panel games and comedy that helped turn Mondays into the night with the week's heaviest viewing.

The announcement that Luey would end the series after this season obviously surprised network programmers. They started frantically looking at pilot shows for a comedy replacement.

Danny Thomas' impending departure tore the first big hole in next season's Monday night schedule. CBS expected to patch that with something called "December Groom." Now there is another vital half hour open.

As next season's schedules take final shape, ABC still has the most time spots to fill.

Among its shows that seem definite are "Wagon Train," shrunk back to its original one hour's length, on Saturday night opposite Jackie Gleason, and a sudsy series called "Peyton Place," presumably a watered-down child of the book, consisting of two half-hour programs a week—late, after the kiddies have gone to bed.

"Bewitched," a fantasy about a suburban housewife who is a real witch and starring Elizabeth Montgomery, is expected to go into the spot now occupied by "The Jimmy Dean Show."

The most extraordinary goings-on surround the appearance next Sunday of the British rock 'n' roll group called "The Beatles." Ed Sullivan will put the quartet live on his CBS show for two consecutive weeks.

The network, literally, is swamped with requests for tickets to the show—50,000 by the end of last week. The theater seats only 728.

Requests by CBS vice presidents, even sponsors, have been turned down.

Recommended tonight: "Cuba: The Bay of Pigs," NBC, 10-11—documentary which is the first of two "white papers" on American foreign policy affecting Cuba.

Commends Rudy Frank

Editor, The Freeman

A word of commendation is surely due our local young people who are participating in the Atlanta desegregation conflict. Several area residents have been, or are presently in jail there as a result of civil rights demonstrations.

One in particular, Rudy W Frank of Shandaken, should be an inspiration for us all. Mr Frank, a victim of polio, not only made a difficult trip from Illinois to Atlanta, but had the courage to project himself into a situation stormy enough to have deterred the most able-bodied.

Rudy Frank has no physical weakness in demonstrating the strength of his convictions. Let's hope that those among us who have been morally weak will show similar strength in supporting the current struggle for human equality in our country.

Lucy Johnson Ill

Today's Business Mirror

1964 Expansion to Be Along Different Lines, New Reasons

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This year may turn out to be less of a carbon copy of 1963 than many business forecasters believe. There are different forces at work this year.

The adjectives usually used to describe 1963 are bigger and better. Most predictions so far have pictured 1964 as becoming even bigger and still better.

But some economists, particularly in the banking world, are now pointing out the factors that could make this year quite different from its predecessor. They still think, however, that business expansion will continue—it'll just be along new lines and for other reasons.

The chief factors that made 1963 bigger and better than first expected are listed by economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, as record auto sales, a good rise in homebuilding, a large increase in government spending and a sizable expansion in money and credit. The bank economists see all four likely to play a smaller role this year.

Not Same Rate as 1963

Both the auto and the home industries should have a good 1964, the economists agree. But they doubt if there will be an expansion in car and house sales at the same rate as in 1963. They also look for the Federal Reserve Board to keep expansion of credit smaller this year, in fear of inflation if for no other reason. And they see President Johnson's economy drive, if carried through, leading to little or no increase in federal spending after mid-1964.

A chief new influence on this year's economy is the federal tax cut, now expected by the end of this month. How much of an influence, and on what sectors of the economy, is in considerable dispute.

But bankers especially are watching its possible effect on money and credit and on inflation, or further rise in prices.

Warning Given

The Federal Reserve has warned that under some conditions credit might have to be tightened and interest rates allowed to rise.

Agreeing with this, the economists at the First National City Bank, New York, point out: "With the boost that demand will be getting from the tax cut, a further stimulus from easy money scarcely seems wise. If we are not to develop an unsustainable rate of expansion and borrow business from 1965, a monetary policy of judicious restraint may well be needed to create a climate in which price stability can be achieved."

Prices Rising Already

Prices already are rising here and there, and increasing prosperity could furnish the climate for a widening of this trend. In the business sector this might upset one of the factors that made for stability in 1963 and bolstered hopes for 1964: moderation in the matter of inventories.

Economists at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York warn that "there is a risk that rising prices will spur stockbuilding."

But on the whole, they see the present inventory situation as quite healthy. The current business upswing is aging, as such economic cycles go, and at this stage stockbuilding usually is a factor in spurring business along. But the Federal Reserve economists note that "inventory levels relative to sales are now well below the levels reached at comparable stages of earlier postwar business cycles."

"Given the present inventory situation, there is little reason to expect that a recession will be triggered or fed by desires to reduce existing stocks, a condition that has been important in previous downturns," they add.

Highland Hosts Senior Seminar Dinner Meeting

Highland High School was host recently to over 120 students, board members, and administrators at the second annual senior seminar dinner. The evening was designed to acquaint the board members of the seven participating schools not only with the seminar program, but also with the students who attend the seminar sessions.

After the invocation, pronounced by the Rev. Gerret Wullschleger of the New Paltz Reformed Church, a dinner was served by Highland High School students under the supervision of Mrs. Ann Toogood, Highland's dietician. Guests were then officially welcomed by Cranston Covell, principal of Highland High School, Leo Rizzo, president of the Highland Board of Education, and Miss Patricia Jones, a senior at Highland High School and one of the participants in the seminar program..

The group then moved to the auditorium where George Fernandez, coordinator of the Senior Seminar Program, introduced the speaker for the evening, Dr. Charles Siepmann, chairman of the department of communications in education at New York University. Dr. Siepmann's topic was Thinking Straight and Propaganda.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The withdrawal of Lucille Ball from weekly situation comedy has hit CBS where it hurts most—in the powerful lineup of panel games and comedy that helped turn Mondays into the night with the week's heaviest viewing.

The announcement that Lucy would end the series after this season obviously surprised network programmers. They started frantically looking at pilot shows for a comedy replacement.

Danny Thomas' impending departure tore the first big hole in next season's Monday night schedule. CBS expected to patch that with something called "December Groom." Now there is another vital half hour open.

As next season's schedules take final shape, ABC still has the most time spots to fill.

Among its shows that seem definite are "Wagon Train," shrunk back to its original one hour's length, on Saturday night opposite Jackie Gleason, and a sudsy series called "Peyton Place," presumably a watered-down child of the book, consisting of two half-hour programs a week—late, after the kiddies have gone to bed.

"Bewitched," a fantasy about a suburban housewife who is a real witch and starring Elizabeth Montgomery, is expected to go into the spot now occupied by "The Jimmy Dean Show."

The most extraordinary goings-on surround the appearance next Sunday of the British rock 'n' roll group called "The Beatles." Ed Sullivan will put the quartet live on his CBS show for two consecutive weeks.

The network, literally, is swamped with requests for tickets to the show—50,000 by the end of last week. The theater seats only 728.

Requests by CBS vice presidents, even sponsors, have been turned down.

Recommended tonight: "Cuba: The Bay of Pigs," NBC, 10-11—documentary which is the first of two "white papers" on American foreign policy affecting Cuba.

Commends Rudy Frank

Editor, The Freeman

A word of commendation is surely due our local young people who are participating in the Atlanta desegregation conflict. Several area residents have been, or are presently in jail there as a result of civil rights demonstrations.

One in particular, Rudy W Frank of Shandaken, should be an inspiration for us all. Mr Frank, a victim of polio, not only made a difficult trip from Illinois to Atlanta, but had the courage to project himself into a situation stormy enough to have deterred the most able-bodied.

Rudy Frank has no physical weakness in demonstrating the strength of his convictions. Let's hope that those among us who have been morally weak will show similar strength in supporting the current struggle for human equality in our country.

Alcohol Listed Major Cause of Alan Ladd Death

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The coroner's report on Alan Ladd's death was terse, clinical and cold.

It didn't tell the whole story about Alan Ladd, a shy, sentimental fellow who never hurt anybody but himself.

The report, issued Monday by the Riverside County coroner listed the cause of Ladd's death last Wednesday as cerebral edema—a swelling of the brain by fluids. Said Coroner James S. Bird in his report:

"The case will be signed out as an accidental death. The combination of alcohol, seconal, Librium and Sparine produced together the tota' effects the depressants had on the central nervous system with the high level of alcohol being the major factor."

Seconal is a barbiturate; Librium a tranquilizer and Sparine a drug that quiets the central nervous system.

Ladd, 50, thought he was miscast as a movie star — even though he was one of the most successful box office stars in history.

Once when he was getting $25,000 a week at Warner Bros. he glanced up at a stage hand working on a railing above the set.

"You know," he reflected, "I used to do that during the Depression for $42.50 a week and they were happy days."

For the last three years, Alan has beeen inactive on the screen.

But Rackin, who got his first production job from Ladd, said Alan did not even want to see the daily rushes of the film.

Rackin said Ladd's performance is so good that the studio planned a sequel to be called "Nevada Smith."

Hatred, Crude Red Slogans Are Used In Congo Revolt

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A witch doctor's brew of tribal magic, terror, antiwhite hatred and crude Communist slogans is the latest formula for subversion and revolt in the Congo.

The bloodstained rebellion in Kwilu Province is led by Pierre Mulele, 34-year-old former education minister who has visited both Moscow and Peking.

Mulele's Chinese - backed uprising started six months ago with fewer than 75 men. Today he has several thousand fanatical warriors who control a region half the size of Belgium.

His soldiers say the white man stole their land and enslaved them. They believe the Communists will bring them "wonderful things."

American missionaires who survived attacks by Mulele's warriors reported hearing cries of "Russia" and "Moscow" as the terrorists closed in.

The warriors told the missionaries their chiefs promised the Russians would give them things possessed only by white men, and also would give them the land.

Captured documents, however told of support from Peking for Mulele's revolt.

Western experts say someone well versed in guerrilla tactics is behind the assaults on missions in which an American woman missionary and three Belgian Roman Catholic priests have been killed.

Government forces have captured the notebook of a man who attended a guerrilla school. It is believed to be Mulele's.

Legislature Gets Rockefeller Plan To Improve Police

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan for improving the caliber of local police recruits was introduced in the Legislature today.

Rockefeller proposed that ap—Be between 21 and 29 years of age.

— Meet height, weight and physical-fitness requirements to be specified by the Municipal pointees to the police forces of counties, cities, towns, villages or police districts be required to:

Police Training Council.

In his annual message to the Legislature Jan. 8, he said law-enforcement agencies, to be effective, needed to attract and retain "able and trained professionals."

The qualifications would not apply to the New York City police department, which has higher standards, or to sheriffs' departments.

The rules would apply to applicants for appointments as policemen beginning Sept. 1, but would not apply to persons on civil - service eligibility lists awaiting appointment on that date.

The state standards would not only apply to top-level officers, such as police commissioners and police chiefs, appointed directly to their supervisory posts.

Laos has no railroads, few highways, and less than 1,000 telephones. The principal artery of commerce is the Mekong River.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged lower in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

The decline was irregular. Utilities were a firm spot. Selected oils, chemicals and nonferrous metals resisted the downtrend.

Although the general background of business and economic news remained encouraging, there was considerable caution about the state of the market.

Sharp profit taking continued in some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues. The trend was mostly lower among electronics, airlines, cigarette stocks, motors and rails.

Claims Beckwith Car Near Scene Where Evers Shot

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A nervous 17-year-old car hop testified today Byron De La Beckwight's car was parked within a few hundred feet of the murder scene on the night integration leader Medgar Evers was shot.

Martha Jean O'Brien said the car was left in a corner of the lot at a drive-in where she worked.

The parking area overlooks the vacant lot where the killer stood hidden in a clump of trees waiting for Evers to come home.

Evers, 37, state secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot in the back by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his Jackson home shortly after midnight June 12. Beckwith, 43, is on trial in circuit court for murder.

Miss O'Brien said she could not identify the man she saw driving the car and, since she got off at midnight, did not know how long it remained.

She said she identified the Beckwith's company assigned white auto for her inspection. The car had a distinctive radio antenna installed for two-way radio communications.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller also called another teen-ager, Robert Pittman, 16, who lived near the drive-in. He testified he saw a white car cruising back and forth in the area four nights before the shooting and on the night of the shooting.

Pittman testified the white car had a long communications antenna mounted on it. A similar auto was assigned to Beckwith for his use as a salesman for a fertilizer firm located at Greenville, Miss.

Dutchess Farms Pays $158,760 for Bull

May Expand Agenda

HARRISBURG (AP) — The agenda for a special session of the legislature to run concurrently with the budget session may be expanded to include a fifth subject.

Gov. William Scranton was scheduled to issue a call Monday for the session to begin Feb. 11, but he delayed the call to consider a subject proposed by Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams.

Adams asked for legislation to permit the transfer of aged senile patients from mental institutions to nursing homes under state control.

Panhandle Is Hit

U.S. 66 Monday night but all 26 passengers were safe. The driver kept the motor and heaters running until towing units could arrive by daylight from nearby San Jon, N.M.

Around Amarillo, heart of the Texas Panhandle, farmers and ranchers were jubilant at prospect of another day of the howling weather. They called it "a million-dollar snow" and said the spring wheat crops would benefit tremendously.

A wheat farmer from Perryton, Tex., C. Douglas Smith, said the snow was moist and clinging—the best kind. "All we need is more of it."

Major Arteries Closed

Amarillo's major arteries to Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and the interior of Texas were closed by midnight. The airport closed Monday afternoon with visibility of less than one-eighth of a mile.

Most eastern New Mexico and Texas roads were branded as dangerous by Monday evening. Roadblocks were set up in some communities to advise motorists to stop.

More than eight inches of snow was reported in Amarillo by midnight. Boise City, in the extreme western Oklahoma Panhandle, had six inches, Guymon in the central Oklahoma Panhandle had five.

Heavy snow was reported at Muleshoe, Pampa, Hereford, Dumas, and Lubbock, in Texas, and at Tucumcari, Clovis and Santa Rosa, in New Mexico.

Some Power Failures

Power failed for about an hour at three eastern New Mexico communities of Texico, Clovis, and Portales, and at Farwell, Tex. Emergency power was turned on, but at the Roosevelt County Hospital in Portales day-old twin sisters in an incubator were kept warm by hot water bottles.

May Never Know

Rankin's reference to "new evidence" when reporters intercepted him leaving the commission's offices later. "I would not comment on a witness' testimony in the middle of it," the chief justice said.

In the area of testimony mentioned by Rankin, the questioning presumably covered the source of the money which paid for Oswald's travels, his purchase of the mail-order rifle which Texas authorities say killed Kennedy, and any possible link between Oswald and Jack Ruby.

Ruby, a Dallas nightclub owner, shot Oswald to death in a Dallas police headquarters on Nov. 24, two days after the assassination.

Goldwater Vetoes Move to Endorse Judd for Unity

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has rejected the plea of a group of Minnesota Republicans who asked him—in the name of party unity —to endorse former Rep. Walter H. Judd as a favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I'm looking for delegates," Goldwater said Monday as he sought presidential backing in Minneapolis and St. Paul. "I can't stop people who want to support me.

"There's plenty of party unity and a campaign properly run will not disunite the party," the Arizona senator said in spurning the proposal of the Judd-for-President Volunteer Committee.

Minnesota will have 26 votes at the convention, and Goldwater's strategists said they figured at least 10 of them are already in the senator's column.

Goldwater told newsmen he figures he had 450-500 delegates' votes lined up now.

Held for Hearing In Quarryville Home Burglary

A 16-year-old Glasco Turnpike lad, George D. Donaghue, is being held in the county jail on a third degree burglary charge following investigation of an illegal entry to the Quarryville home of Freeman W. Stay. State police also arrested another youth who because of his age was not identified. His case has been assigned to Family Court.

Trooper James Kaljian reported $175 had been taken from the Stay home Snday while the family was absent. Assisting in the investigation and arrest were Town of Saugerties Special Police Officers Charles Riley and John Pavlak and Acting Police Sergeant Donald Sullivan of Saugerties Police Department.

Donaghue was arraigned before Justice William D. Brinnier of Saugerties and committed to the county jail on a third degree burglary charge to await grand jury action.

Thruway to Stay Just That to Users

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The road the Democrats once called Dewey's Dreamway has the Legislature's nod to be named the Thomas E. Dewey Thruway.

But the road politicians followed in arriving at the name is as meandering as a cowpath, and veteran observers recall that the 556-mile superhighway also has other names in the statutes. To the public, it's just the Thruway, however.

The road was conceived in the administration of a Democrat—the late Herbert H. Lehman—but Republican legislators were behind it. The birth occurred in the administration of a Republican—Thomas E. Dewey.

Far From Bipartisan

The course of the superhighway has been far from bipartisan, however. Last night's party-line vote in the Senate—33 Republicans in favor of the Dewey name, 24 Democrats against—was an echo from the past, as was the recent Assembly vote.

Despite its rough road, the Thruway was completed in in 1960. At one point, the Legislature named it the Blue Star Memorial Highway, and the bill became law. Another statute gives various Indian names to various sections — the Iroquois Trail, the Erie Path, etc.

But the Thruway signs remain, and a spokesman for the Thruway Authority said today he expected no costly change.

In debate last night, Senate Democrats said Lehman deserved the tribute of the name, if anyone did, although they opposed naming the highway for anyone.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said that a tribute was being planned for the late Gov. Lehman, and that when it reached the Senate there would be "no party vote."

Soviets Charge Bonn

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has accused West Germany of developing military rockets capable of carrying nuclear weapons.

In a protest to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, the Kremlin said the alleged rocket development was in "gross violation" the limitations placed on Germany by the unconditional surrender after World War II.

The Soviet note disputed the West German government's statement in December that the rockets were for weather purposes.

Backers Hopeful Of Holding Key CR Bill Section

By JOHN W. BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House backers of the civil rights bill were cautiously optimstic today as they faced a fight to hold the key public accommodations section in the bill.

Regarded by many Negro leaders as the heart of the omnibus bill, it would ban racial discrimination in restaurants, hotels, theaters and other places serving the general public.

The provision is one of three on which Southern Democrats hope to pick up enough Republican support to get crippling or limiting amendments approved.

The other two are the sections banning racial discrimination in employment and in federally aided programs. Action on them will come later in the week.

At least a dozen amendments are expected to be offered to the public accommodations section and it may not be possible to complete action on it today.

House Speaker John W. McCormack said at the White House today he hopes for a final vote on the bill by Saturday. He said he so reported to President Johnson at the weekly meeting of congressional leaders with the President.

The bill's supporters took heart from a 176-125 victory Monday on the first big challenge thrown at them — an amendment to strike from the bill a provision for a three-judge court to speed action on voting cases.

The amendment was proposed by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., floor leader for the Southern forces.

The 51-vote victory margin, coming after more than two hours debate, gave an obvious psychological boost to the bill's supporters.

Judge Mino noted that criminal cases had a preference but in the event there was a break in the criminal work, attorneys with civil cases on the day calendar would be notified by the clerk of the court and civil matters would be taken up.

Says Baker Gets

such powers and is "not investigating senators."

The committee is investigating whether Baker's outside business dealings involved conflict of interest or other improprieties, and whether any other Senate employes were involved. Baker resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Democratic Senate majority.

The testimony to be made public today was taken at a closed session last week from Thomas Webb Jr. and Francis Law, Washington lawyers who have been linked with Baker in connection with a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony also is expected to shed more light on other ventures in which Baker's name has figured. These include a Florida real estate transaction, and the purchase of $250,000 worth of an insurance company's stock.

Rare Coins Taken

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Burglars broke into the home of Harvey Stevenson in the nearby hamlet of Enfield overnight and removed a safe containing rare coins he said were worth about $10,500.

Ladies' Investment Club Buying On Monthly Plan

Q) "We are 18 women organized into an investment club. We will have $450 monthly to put into stocks. We are planning to buy these stocks for growth on the Monthly Investment Plan. What would you suggest? We are considering Corn Products; Sears, Roebuck; IBM; Xerox; Control Data."

H.B.

A) You have put together a good list of stocks, and I commend you for it.

I should without hesitation include Corn Products and Sears, Roebuck on your list.

Of the remaining stocks you mention, all have good growth rates. Xerox has had a tremendous rise in price and, to my mind, is too heavily dependent on one line — Xerographic copying—where future competition is at least possible. Control Data is the only company I know of, besides IBM, to make money in the data processing field, but it also has had a tremendous price runup.

Although it is by no means cheap, I believe your best choice for a third selection would be IBM, unquestioned leader in its field.

(Q. "I have noticed that you never recommend tax-exempts for people in brackets lower than 50 percent. I am 66 years old and in the 26 per cent bracket. To me municipals seem a harbor of refuge. What could you suggest for me in the way of tax-emempts?"

H.K.

A) I should like to correct your first sentence, if I may. In my Dec. 17, 1963, column I wrote: "There is an entirely erroneous assumption that such investments (tax-exempts) are solely for the rich."

I continue to believe that good tax-exempts provide a very secure, fixed income,and I commend them to a man in your position.

I suggest you buy Massachusetts 2:30's due 11/1/69 to yield 2.70 per cent — which on the basis of Federal tax exemption alone — offer you a taxable equivalent return of 4.65 per cent.

Starling Disappears

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sammie, the curious starling trapped inside the cockpit of a World War II fighter plane at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Museum, has disappeared.

Base authorities searched the plane early today without finding a trace of the bird that attracted the sympathy of museum sightseers Monday.

The museum had closed Monday night with Sammie apparently still in the plane after futile efforts to free him. After the search today Air Force Personnel hoped he made his escape from the plane and museum without injury.

N-M Income Up

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Niagara-Mohawk Power Corp. reports a 1963 net income of $43,980,000, an increase of $2,266,000 over that of 1962.

The company said last year's income equalled $2.78 a share of common stock, compared with $2.61 a share in 1962. This was computed on the basis of 13,680,340 shares outstanding at the end of each year.

Simulated Moon Trip for Ranger Vehicle Planned

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Plans to send a duplicate Ranger moon vehicle on a simulated voyage in space were under way today in an effort to find what went wrong with the probe's television eyes.

The duplicate vehicle would, under laboratory conditions, follow as closely as possible Ranger 6's flight, perhaps pinpointing the reason for failure of the vehicle's photographic system.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesmen said that unless the problem is located, the flight of Ranger 7, scheduled for later this month, might have to be postponed.

5 directions to follow for wise investing

You may want to own stock with the aim of building a second income. Or to give your money a chance to increase as the years fly by. Whatever your goal, here are 5 directions to help you stay on the track:

First, give careful thought to the broker you choose. At a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange you'll have the help of a broker who, when he was registered, had to meet Exchange standards. Though Member Firms may differ in many ways, they are all subject to the Exchange's rules and regulations.

You'll be wise to be candid with him about your resources and ambitions. For the investing route you take depends upon where you hope to go. And you're more likely to get there when your investments snugly fit your goals. He can help you with your decisions—but don't expect to find a crystal ball on his desk.

Second, weigh the risk against the reward. Some companies have prospered greatly and their shareowners have benefited —sometimes handsomely—from their growth. But other companies have found the going rougher, perhaps making no profit, paying no dividends. Keep in mind, too, that stock prices, like other prices, fluctuate for many reasons.

Third, consult your pocketbook. Are your living expenses amply cared for? Have you made proper provision for emergencies? Do you still have funds left over? Then you may be ready to consider making some of your dollars work as hard for you as you worked for them—through investment in good stock.

Fourth, always distinguish between fact and rumor. When tips and rumors have no basis in fact, they can cost you dearly. Ask your Member Firm broker to help you check earnings and dividend records, sales trends and other important information. And inquire about the relative safety and stability of bonds.

Fifth, send for a copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." The coupon below will bring you, free, the records of more than 500 stocks that have paid cash dividends each year for 25 years or more. It also tells about the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can start acquiring stock by investing with as little as $40 every three months ($3.08 a week). Send the coupon today.

Alcohol Listed Major Cause of Alan Ladd Death

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The coroner's report on Alan Ladd's death was terse, clinical and cold.

It didn't tell the whole story about Alan Ladd, a shy, sentimental fellow who never hurt anybody but himself.

The report, issued Monday by the Riverside County coroner listed the cause of Ladd's death last Wednesday as cerebral edema—a swelling of the brain by fluids. Said Coroner James S. Bird in his report:

"The case will be signed out as an accidental death. The combination of alcohol, seconal, Librium and Sparine produced together the total effects the depressants had on the central nervous system with the high level of alcohol being the major factor."

Seconal is a barbiturate; Librium a tranquilizer and Sparine a drug that quiets the central nervous system.

Ladd, 50, thought he was miscast as a movie star — even though he was one of the most successful box office stars in history.

Once when he was getting $25,000 a week at Warner Bros. he glanced up at a stage hand working on a railing above the set.

"You know," he reflected, "I used to do that during the Depression for $42.50 a week and they were happy days."

For the last three years, Alan has beeen inactive on the screen.

But Rackin, who got his first production job from Ladd, said Alan did not even want to see the daily rushes of the film.

Rackin said Ladd's performance is so good that the studio planned a sequel to be called "Nevada Smith."

Hatred, Crude Red Slogans Are Used In Congo Revolt

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A witch doctor's brew of tribal magic, terror, antiwhite hatred and crude Communist slogans is the latest formula for subversion and revolt in the Congo.

The bloodstained rebellion in Kwilu Province is led by Pierre Mulele, 34-year-old former education minister who has visited both Moscow and Peking.

Mulele's Chinese - backed uprising started six months ago with fewer than 75 men. Today he has several thousand fanatical warriors who control a region half the size of Belgium.

His soldiers say the white man stole their land and enslaved them. They believe the Communists will bring them "wonderful things."

American missionaires who survived attacks by Mulele's warriors reported hearing cries of "Russia" and "Moscow" as the terrorists closed in.

The warriors told the missionaries their chiefs promised the Russians would give them things possessed only by white men, and also would give them the land.

Captured documents, however told of support from Peking for Mulele's revolt.

Western experts say someone well versed in guerrilla tactics is behind the assaults on missions in which an American woman missionary and three Belgian Roman Catholic priests have been killed.

Government forces have captured the notebook of a man who attended a guerrilla school. It is believed to be Mulele's.

Legislature Gets Rockefeller Plan To Improve Police

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan for improving the caliber of local police recruits was introduced in the Legislature today.

Rockefeller proposed that applicants:

—Be between 21 and 29 years of age.

— Meet height, weight and physical-fitness requirements to be specified by the Municipal pointees to the police forces of counties, cities, towns, villages or police districts be required to:

Police Training Council.

In his annual message to the Legislature Jan. 8, he said law-enforcement agencies, to be effective, needed to attract and retain "able and trained professionals."

The qualifications would not apply to the New York City police department, which has higher standards, or to sheriffs' departments.

The rules would apply to applicants for appointments as policemen beginning Sept. 1, but would not apply to persons on civil - service eligibility lists awaiting appointment on that date.

The state standards would not only apply to top-level officers, such as police commissioners and police chiefs, appointed directly to their supervisory posts.

Laos has no railroads, few highways, and less than 1,000 telephones. The principal artery of commerce is the Mekong River.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged lower in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

The decline was irregular. Utilities were a firm spot. Selected oils, chemicals and nonferrous metals resisted the downtrend.

Although the general background of business and economic news remained encouraging, there was considerable caution about the state of the market.

Sharp profit taking continued in some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues. The trend was mostly lower among electronics, airlines, cigarette stocks, motors and rails.

Claims Beckwith Car Near Scene Where Evers Shot

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A nervous 17-year-old car hop testified today Byron De La Beckwight's car was parked within a few hundred feet of the murder scene on the night integration leader Medgar Evers was shot.

Martha Jean O'Brien said the car was left in a corner of the lot at a drive-in where she worked.

The parking area overlooks the vacant lot where the killer stood hidden in a clump of trees waiting for Evers to come home.

Evers, 37, state secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot in the back by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his Jackson home shortly after midnight June 12. Beckwith, 43, is on trial in circuit court for murder.

Miss O'Brien said she could not identify the man she saw driving the car and, since she got off at midnight, did not know how long it remained.

She said she identified the Beckwith's company assigned white auto for her inspection. The car had a distinctive radio antenna installed for two-way radio communications.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller also called another teen-ager, Robert Pittman, 16, who lived near the drive-in. He testified he saw a white car cruising back and forth in the area four nights before the shooting and on the night of the shooting.

Pittman testified the white car had a long communications antenna mounted on it. A similar auto was assigned to Beckwith for his use as a salesman for a fertilizer firm located at Greenville, Miss.

Dutchess Farms Pays $158,760 for Bull

May Expand Agenda

HARRISBURG (AP) — The agenda for a special session of the legislature to run concurrently with the budget session may be expanded to include a fifth subject.

Gov. William Scranton was scheduled to issue a call Monday for the session to begin Feb. 11, but he delayed the call to consider a subject proposed by Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams.

Adams asked for legislation to permit the transfer of aged senile patients from mental institutions to nursing homes under state control.

Panhandle Is Hit

U.S. 66 Monday night but all 26 passengers were safe. The driver kept the motor and heaters running until towing units could arrive by daylight from nearby San Jon, N.M.

Thousands of stranded travelers jammed hotels and motels in the areas.

Around Amarillo, heart of the Texas Panhandle, farmers and ranchers were jubilant at prospect of another day of the howling weather. They called it "a million-dollar snow" and said the spring wheat crops would benefit tremendously.

A wheat farmer from Perryton, Tex., C. Douglas Smith, said the snow was moist and clinging—the best kind. "All we need is more of it."

Major Arteries Closed

Amarillo's major arteries to Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and the interior of Texas were closed by midnight. The airport closed Monday afternoon with visibility of less than one-eighth of a mile.

Most eastern New Mexico and Texas roads were branded as dangerous by Monday evening. Roadblocks were set up in some communities to advise motorists to stop.

More than eight inches of snow was reported in Amarillo by midnight. Boise City, in the extreme western Oklahoma Panhandle, had six inches, Guymon in the central Oklahoma Panhandle had five.

Heavy snow was reported at Muleshoe, Pampa, Hereford, Dumas, and Lubbock, in Texas, and at Tucumcari, Clovis and Santa Rosa, in New Mexico.

Some Power Failures

Power failed for about an hour at three eastern New Mexico communities of Texico, Clovis, and Portales, and at Farwell, Tex. Emergency power was turned on, but at the Roosevelt County Hospital in Portales day-old twin sisters in an incubator were kept warm by hot water bottles.

May Never Know

Rankin's reference to "new evidence" when reporters intercepted him leaving the commission's offices later. "I would not comment on a witness' testimony in the middle of it," the chief justice said.

In the area of testimony mentioned by Rankin, the questioning presumably covered the source of the money which paid for Oswald's travels, his purchase of the mail-order rifle which Texas authorities say killed Kennedy, and any possible link between Oswald and Jack Ruby.

Ruby, a Dallas nightclub owner, shot Oswald to death in a Dallas police headquarters on Nov. 24, two days after the assassination.

Goldwater Vetoes Move to Endorse Judd for Unity

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has rejected the plea of a group of Minnesota Republicans who asked him—in the name of party unity—to endorse former Rep. Walter H. Judd as a favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I'm looking for delegates," Goldwater said Monday as he sought presidential backing in Minneapolis and St. Paul. "I can't stop people who want to support me.

"There's plenty of party unity and a campaign properly run will not disunite the party," the Arizona senator said in spurning the proposal of the Judd-for-President Volunteer Committee.

Minnesota will have 26 votes at the convention, and Goldwater's strategists said they figured at least 10 of them are already in the senator's column.

Goldwater told newsmen he figures he had 450-500 delegates' votes lined up now.

Held for Hearing In Quarryville Home Burglary

A 16-year-old Glasco Turnpike lad, George D. Donaghue, is being held in the county jail on a third degree burglary charge following investigation of an illegal entry to the Quarryville home of Freeman W. Stay. State police also arrested another youth who because of his age was not identified. His case has been assigned to Family Court.

Trooper James Kaljian reported $175 had been taken from the Stay home Snday while the family was absent. Assisting in the investigation and arrest were Town of Saugerties Special Police Officers Charles Riley and John Pavlak and Acting Police Sergeant Donald Sullivan of Saugerties Police Department.

Donaghue was arraigned before Justice William D. Brinnier of Saugerties and committed to the county jail on a third degree burglary charge to await grand jury action.

Says Change . . .

been no change at great expense to the Authority. He stated that there might be signs erected "here and there" calling attention to the fact that the Thruway was also known as the Thomas E. Dewey Highway, but asserted he was sure the authority would not go to any great expense to change the signs over the marquee.

Thruway to Stay Just That to Users

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The road the Democrats once called Dewey's Dreamway has the Legislature's nod to be named the Thomas E. Dewey Thruway.

But the road politicians followed in arriving at the name is as meandering as a cowpath, and veteran observers recall that the 556-mile superhighway also has other names in the statutes. To the public, it's just the Thruway, however.

The road was conceived in the administration of a Democrat—the late Herbert H. Lehman—but Republican legislators were behind it. The birth occurred in the administration of a Republican—Thomas E. Dewey.

Far From Bipartisan

The course of the superhighway has been far from bipartisan, however. Last night's party-line vote in the Senate—33 Republicans in favor of the Dewey name, 24 Democrats against—was an echo from the past, as was the recent Assembly vote.

Despite its rough road, the Thruway was completed in in 1960. At one point, the Legislature named it the Blue Star Memorial Highway, and the bill became law. Another statute gives various Indian names to various sections — the Iroquois Trail, the Erie Path, etc.

But the Thruway signs remain, and a spokesman for the Thruway Authority said today he expected no costly change.

In debate last night, Senate Democrats said Lehman deserved the tribute of the name, if anyone did, although they opposed naming the highway for anyone.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said that a tribute was being planned for the late Gov. Lehman, and that when it reached the Senate there would be "no party vote."

Soviets Charge Bonn

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has accused West Germany of developing military rockets capable of carrying nuclear weapons.

In a protest to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, the Kremlin said the alleged rocket development was in "gross violation" the limitations placed on Germany by the unconditional surrender after World War II.

The Soviet note disputed the West German government's statement in December that the rockets were for weather purposes.

Backers Hopeful Of Holding Key CR Bill Section

By JOHN W. BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House backers of the civil rights bill were cautiously optimstic today as they faced a fight to hold the key public accommodations section in the bill.

Regarded by many Negro leaders as the heart of the omnibus bill, it would ban racial discrimination in restaurants, hotels, theaters and other places serving the general public.

The provision is one of three on which Southern Democrats hope to pick up enough Republican support to get crippling or limiting amendments approved.

The other two are the sections banning racial discrimination in employment and in federally aided programs. Action on them will come later in the week.

At least a dozen amendments are expected to be offered to the public accommodations section and it may not be possible to complete action on it today.

House Speaker John W. McCormack said at the White House today he hopes for a final vote on the bill by Saturday. He said he so reported to President Johnson at the weekly meeting of congressional leaders with the President.

The bill's supporters took heart from a 176-125 victory Monday on the first big challenge thrown at them — an amendment to strike from the bill a provision for a three-judge court to speed action on voting cases.

The 51-vote victory margin, coming after more than two hours debate, gave an obvious psychological boost to the bill's supporters.

Says Baker Gets

The committee is investigating whether Baker's outside business dealings involved conflict of interest or other improprieties, and whether any other Senate employes were involved. Baker resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Democratic Senate majority.

The testimony to be made public today was taken at a closed session last week from Thomas Webb Jr. and Francis Law, Washington lawyers who have been linked with Baker in connection with a Haitian meat deal.

The testimony also is expected to shed more light on other ventures in which Baker's name has figured. These include a Florida real estate transaction, and the purchase of $250,000 worth of an insurance company's stock.

Rare Coins Taken

Ladies' Investment Club Buying On Monthly Plan

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We are 18 women organized into an investment club. We will have $450 monthly to put into stocks. We are planning to buy these stocks for growth on the Monthly Investment Plan. What would you suggest? We are considering Corn Products; Sears, Roebuck; IBM; Xerox; Control Data."

H.B.

A) You have put together a good list of stocks, and I commend you for it.

I should without hesitation include Corn Products and Sears, Roebuck on your list.

Of the remaining stocks you mention, all have good growth rates. Xerox has had a tremendous rise in price and, to my mind, is too heavily dependent on one line — Xerographic copying—where future competition is at least possible. Control Data is the only company I know of, besides IBM, to make money in the data processing field, but it also has had a tremendous price runup.

Although it is by no means cheap, I believe your best choice for a third selection would be IBM, unquestioned leader in its field.

(Q. "I have noticed that you never recommend tax-exempts for people in brackets lower than 50 percent. I am 66 years old and in the 26 per cent bracket. To me municipals seem a harbor of refuge. What could you suggest for me in the way of tax-emempts?"

H.K.

A) I should like to correct your first sentence, if I may. In my Dec. 17, 1963, column I wrote: "There is an entirely erroneous assumption that such investments (tax-exempts) are solely for the rich."

I continue to believe that good tax-exempts provide a very secure, fixed income,and I commend them to a man in your position.

I suggest you buy Massachusetts 2:30's due 11/1/69 to yield 2.70 per cent — which on the basis of Federal tax exemption alone — offer you a taxable equivalent return of 4.65 per cent.

Starling Disappears

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sammie, the curious starling trapped inside the cockpit of a World War II fighter plane at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Museum, has disappeared.

Base authorities searched the plane early today without finding a trace of the bird that attracted the sympathy of museum sightseers Monday.

The museum had closed Monday night with Sammie apparently still in the plane after futile efforts to free him. After the search today Air Force Personnel hoped he made his escape from the plane and museum without injury.

N-M Income Up

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Niagara-Mohawk Power Corp. reports a 1963 net income of $43,980,000, an increase of $2,266,000 over that of 1962.

The company said last year's income equalled $2.78 a share of common stock, compared with $2.61 a share in 1962. This was computed on the basis of 13,680,340 shares outstanding at the end of each year.

Simulated Moon Trip for Ranger Vehicle Planned

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Plans to send a duplicate Ranger moon vehicle on a simulated voyage in space were under way today in an effort to find what went wrong with the probe's television eyes.

The duplicate vehicle would, under laboratory conditions, follow as closely as possible Ranger 6's flight, perhaps pinpointing the reason for failure of the vehicle's photographic system.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesmen said that unless the problem is located, the flight of Ranger 7, scheduled for later this month, might have to be postponed.

5 directions to follow for wise investing

You may want to own stock with the aim of building a second income. Or to give your money a chance to increase as the years fly by. Whatever your goal, here are 5 directions to help you stay on the track:

First, give careful thought to the broker you choose. At a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange you'll have the help of a broker who, when he was registered, had to meet Exchange standards. Though Member Firms may differ in many ways, they are all subject to the Exchange's rules and regulations.

You'll be wise to be candid with him about your resources and ambitions. For the investing route you take depends upon where you hope to go. And you're more likely to get there when your investments snugly fit your goals. He can help you with your decisions—but don't expect to find a crystal ball on his desk.

Second, weigh the risk against the reward. Some companies have prospered greatly and their shareowners have benefited—sometimes handsomely—from their growth. But other companies have found the going rougher, perhaps making no profit, paying no dividends. Keep in mind, too, that stock prices, like other prices, fluctuate for many reasons.

Third, consult your pocketbook. Are your living expenses amply cared for? Have you made proper provision for emergencies? Do you still have funds left over? Then you may be ready to consider making some of your dollars work as hard for you as you worked for them—through investment in good stock.

Fourth, always distinguish between fact and rumor. When tips and rumors have no basis in fact, they can cost you dearly. Ask your Member Firm broker to help you check earnings and dividend records, sales trends and other important information. And inquire about the relative safety and stability of bonds.

Fifth, send for a copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." The coupon below will bring you, free, the records of more than 500 stocks that have paid cash dividends each year for 25 years or more. It also tells about the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can start acquiring stock by investing with as little as $40 every three months ($3.08 a week). Send the coupon today.

Michigan Skater Captures First Olympic Gold Medal

Terry McDermott Breaks Record

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., cracked the Soviet Union's long-time speed skating monopoly and won the first gold medal for the United States with a 500-meter victory today in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The 23-year-old former Michigan Tech student, who clips hair and shaves customers in his dad's barber shop, trimmed one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record by flashing the 546.8 yards in 40.1 seconds.

The record had been set at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 by the Soviet Union's Eugeny Grishnin, who finished in a triple tie for second with another Russian, Vladimir Orlov, and Alv Gjestvang of Norway, all clocked in 40.6.

First Win Since 1952

McDermott outsped 43 skaters from 19 countries in giving the United States its first speed skating medal since 1952, when Ken Henry won the 500.

The medal was the third for the United States, with a silver and a bronze won previously by spunky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the ladies' giant slalom and slalom on the skiing slopes of Lizum Valley.

Earlier, a skiing marksman from the Soviet Union, Vladimir Melanin, won the tough biathlon test and Germans dominated both the men's and women's individual events in tobogganing, a new Olympic event.

Allen Now Third

Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old U.S. champion from Smoke Rise N.J., moved ahead of France's favored Alain Calmat into third place on the fourth of five compulsory figures in the men's figure skating competition.

Monty Hoyt, 19, of Denver, also improved his position, climbing to sixth. Manfred Schnelldorfer of Germany leads with 790.1 points, followed by Karol Divin of Czechoslovakia, with 776.8. Allen is close at 776.0. Hoyt has 712.9 points.

Free skating, in which both Allen and Hoyt excel, climaxes the competition Thursday.

The Russians, with two medals in the biathlon and two silvers in the 500-meter speed skating tie, boosted their total to 19 — more than twice that of second place Germany, with 8.

Just when it seemed as if the United States would be shut out of any first places in the Games, McDermott uncorked a superb race to overtake the three leaders.

Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., knowing he had to do 40.6 or better to stand any chance of a medal — only just missed it. He was clocked in 40.9.

Tom Gray of Bloomington, the other American entrant, did 41.5.

Germans In Sweep

The Germans finished 1-2-3 in the men's tobogganing—known as luge in Europe—and 1-2 in the women's, with the bronze medal going to Austria.

The Olympic luge track for men measures 1,100 yards with 18 tricky, hairpin bends. An unseasonal thaw made the track almost unusable Monday but an overnight freeze made it lightning fast.

Thomas Koehler of Germany, a 23-year-old student, won the men's individual tobogganing title by sweeping down the course four times in 3 minutes, 26.77 seconds.

Factory Worker Wins

His teammate, Klaus Michael Bonsack, a locksmith, registered 3:27.04, with the best time of all on his final run of 52.42 seconds. Hans Plenk made it a sweep in 3:30.15.

The women's luge title went to Ortun Enderlein, 24-year-old East German factory worker, who shot down the course four times in a total of 3 minutes, 24.67.

UCLAns Hold First With 17-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The UCLA Bruins drew 43 first place votes among the 49 cast by the panel of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters. The six other writers ranked them second.

Defeats of Davidson, Vanderbilt and DePaul shook up the Top Ten but nobody was knocked out. Davidson dropped from third to fifth after losing its first game to West Virginia 75-73. Vanderbilt tumbled from fifth to eighth after bowing to Auburn 81-63. DePaul slipped one rung to 10th after losing to Louisville 83-79.

Michigan Second

Michigan remained in second place by boosting its record to 15-1 with a 95-79 romp over Michigan State. UCLA, however rolled over the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California in two games to make it 17-0 for the year. Michigan drew five firsts but trailed UCLA in points 484-429.

Kentucky advanced a peg to third at 15-2 on a victory over Florida and Wichita whipped both Cincinnati and Marquette for a 16-3 record and moved up from seventh to fourth. Fifth-place Davidson bounced back from its first defeat and clobbered VMI 129-91.

Villanova Holds

Villanova held tight to sixth by downing American University and Detroit. Duke moved up to seventh on victories over South Carolina and Navy. Vanderbilt, in eighth place, was pursued closely by Chicago Loyola, which won three games during the week over Dayton, Western Michigan and Iowa.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (43)	484
2.	Michigan (5)	429
3.	Kentucky	372
4.	Wichita	265
5.	Davidson (1)	251

Embattled KC Baseball Men Meet Thursday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley will meet with city officials again Thursday but there is no indication whether it will bring any break in the long deadlock over a stadium lease for his Kansas City Athletics.

The American League ordered Finley to sign a lease by Feb. 1 or face expulsion after rejecting by a 9-1 vote his bid to move the club to Louisville Jan. 16. The league later extended the deadline to Feb. 15.

City Manager Carleton F. Sharpe said Finley in a telephone call from Chicago Monday didn't say whether he would make any new proposals at the meeting. Sharpe set the meeting for 9 a.m. CST.

Last week a meeting ended with Finley and the city farther apart than ever. The city stood firm in its contention a four-year pact is needed to stabilize the troubled franchise and end repeated threats of the club leaving the city.

Finley insisted he would risk bankruptcy by signing a lease for more than two years. But he rejected the city's offer to insert a clause in the lease permitting him to leave if threatened by bankruptcy.

Would Start Sunday Sport Games at 1:05

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Baseball and football games could start in New York state at 1:05 p.m. on Sunday instead of the present 2 p.m. limit under a bill passed Monday night by the Senate and sent to Gov. Rockefeller.

The governor previously vetoed legislation to allow the 1:05 starting time and the fate of the 1964 bill is uncertain.

Sen. William Condon, sponsor of this year's measure, said it had been requested by baseball and football teams, sports writers and others connected with Sunday afternoon sports events.

KHS Slated to Play At Liberty Tonight

The top action on the non-league front will match the Newburgh Free Academy Goldbacks and Beacon at the Hilly City gym. Wappingers is at Pine Plains and Saugerties at Catskill in matinee til .

Coach John Gilligan was pleased with the showing of the KHS team against Poughkeepsie. The Pioneers had won an earlier meeting by 21 points. This time, a tough defense and some timely shooting turned the trick.

Lot of Speed

In the other DUSO action, Poughkeepsie is favored to rebound against Port Jervis while Monticello is the choice over an improved Middletown club.

Beacon will take a 31-game winning streak to the Newburgh Free Academy gym and the Bulldogs are heavily favored to win another. They clobbered NFA by 30 points only three weeks ago.

Southern Basketball Comeback Stirs Rupp

Four in Top Ten Are From Dixie

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like any good Kentucky colonel, Adolph Rupp had a couple of kind words to say about the South.

"One of my greatest satisfactions is seeing the South — once the laughing stock of the nation in basketball — now respectable and with teams rated among the top ten nationally."

Rupp made the observation Monday night after his Kentucky Wildcats knocked off Georgia 103-83 and; 1, took over sole possession of the Southeastern Conference lead; 2, provided Rupp with his 700th coaching victory and 3, prompted him to do a bit of reflecting.

Southern basketball was, as Rupp observed in pretty sad shape when he took over the Kentucky reins as a 29-year-old coach.

But that was some 33 years, four national championships and 700 victories ago.

In that time, under the leadership of Rupp and Kentucky, the Southland has emerged as one of the nation's strongest basketball areas.

Four In Top Ten

Proof? Look at the national rankings. Four of the nation's top ten come from the South; No. 3 Kentucky, No. 5 Davidson, No. 7 Duke and No. 8 Vanderbilt.

Both Kentucky and Vanderbilt protected those high ratings Monday, Vandy with a 111-73 romp over Alabama but second-ranked Michigan had its troubles.

The Wolverines, the only other ranked team in action, was edged out by Ohio State 86-85. It was Michigan's first loss in the Big Ten and only the second defeat in 17 starts for the Wolverines.

Ohio State trailed by nine points three times in the first half but rallied for an 81-73 lead with three minutes to go. The Wolverines closed to within one before time ran out.

Bradds Scores 42

In Athens, Ga., site of Rupp's first loss as a Kentucky coach Feb. 13, 1931, Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken led the charge for No. 700. Nash tossed in 33 points and Deeken added 29 as the Wildcats moved to a 16-2 overall record.

Vanderbilt, upset by Auburn over the weekend, bounced back against Alabama. The Commodores had eight players scoring in double figures, led by Clyde Lee with 15. The 111-point total represented the most points ever scored against an Alabama team.

In some of the other major games, Kansas State had to go to overtime to beat Nebraska 73-66, Nick Werkman scored 41 points and led Seton Hall to a 110-86 romp over Wagner, Colorado upset Oklahoma State 63-59 and gained a share of the Big Eight lead, while Washington of St. Louis put on a fantastic second half shooting show, hitting 16 of 21 attempts from the floor, in a 75-68 conquest of Drake.

Bill Russell Top Rebounder Replacing Wilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Bill Russell, the Boston Celtics' defensive demon, has been making his presence felt under the backboards much to the displeasure of his National Basketball Association foes.

The 6-foot-9 pivotman, who was the league's most valuable player last year, displaced San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain as the No. 1 rebounder during the past week.

Russell has hauled down 1,203 rebounds in 49 games for a 24.6 average, league statistics showed today. The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain dropped to second in rebounding with a 22.0 average on 1,188 retrieves in 54 games.

Chamberlain continued his prolific point-production with 201 points in five games last week for a season's total of 1,936. That output increased his average a full half-point from 35.4 to 35.9.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati is a distant second in the scoring race with 1,643 points in 54 games for a 30.8 average. St. Louis' Bob Pettit ranks third with 1,574 points in 56 games, averaging 28.1.

Bigger Payoffs Orange Bowl's Reason for Move

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Orange Bowl Committee will go into the open market for opponents for the annual New Year's Day football game in an effort to attract a bigger national audience.

The committee announced Monday it was ending its 11-year-old contract which called for the Big Eight Conference to provide one team for the game.

Committee president Ben Benjamin said "it was the hope of the Orange Bowl Committee that all sections of our country would thereby become eligible for our bowl."

The committee and the Big Eight's executive director Wayne Duke, agreed their relationship had been pleasant and said no hard feelings resulted from the decision.

Won Seven Games

Big Eight teams have won seven of 11 games during the contract, including last New Year's Day victory by Nebraska over Auburn.

Off the strength of a new television contract for $300,000 annually over the next three years and the possibility of rescaling tickets, the Orange Bowl hopes to offer next year's teams about $210,000 for their services. Only the Rose Bowl payoff is greater.

Television rights were bought by the National Broadcasting Co., which said it did not care whether the Orange Bowl kept a conference tie-up or not.

The 29-year-old Orange Bowl continued its contract with the Big Eight after dropping the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1959. The game will be played at night next year for the first time.

Terry McDermott Breaks Record

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., cracked the Soviet Union's long-time speed skating monopoly and won the first gold medal for the United States with a 500-meter victory today in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The 23-year-old former Michigan Tech student, who clips hair and shaves customers in his dad's barber shop, trimmed one-tenth of a second off the Olympic record by flashing the 546.8 yards in 40.1 seconds.

The record had been set at Cortina, Italy, in 1956 by the Soviet Union's Eugeny Grishnin, who finished in a triple tie for second with another Russian, Vladimir Orlov, and Alv Gjestvang of Norway, all clocked in 40.6.

First Win Since 1952

McDermott outsped 43 skaters from 19 countries in giving the United States its first speed skating medal since 1952, when Ken Henry won the 500.

The medal was the third for the United States, with a silver and a bronze won previously by spunky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., in the ladies' giant slalom and slalom on the skiing slopes of Lizum Valley.

Earlier, a skiing marksman from the Soviet Union, Vladimir Melanin, won the tough biathlon test and Germans dominated both the men's and women's individual events in tobogganing, a new Olympic event.

Allen Now Third

Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old U.S. champion from Smoke Rise N.J., moved ahead of France's favored Alain Calmat into third place on the fourth of five compulsory figures in the men's figure skating competition.

Monty Hoyt, 19, of Denver, also improved his position, climbing to sixth. Manfred Schnelldorfer of Germany leads with 790.1 points, followed by Karol Divin of Czechoslovakia, with 776.8. Allen is close at 776.0. Hoyt has 712.9 points.

Free skating, in which both Allen and Hoyt excel, climaxes the competition Thursday.

The Russians, with two medals in the biathlon and two silvers in the 500-meter speed skating tie, boosted their total to 19 — more than twice that of second place Germany, with 8.

Just when it seemed as if the United States would be shut out of any first places in the Games, McDermott uncorked a superb race to overtake the three leaders.

Eddie Rudolph of Northbrook, Ill., knowing he had to do 40.6 or better to stand any chance of a medal — only just missed it. He was clocked in 40.9.

Tom Gray of Bloomington, the other American entrant, did 41.5.

Germans In Sweep

The Germans finished 1-2-3 in the men's tobogganing—known as luge in Europe—and 1-2 in the women's, with the bronze medal going to Austria.

The luge is a small sled, little more than a wooden plank and two iron runners, on which European children slide down snow banks.

The Olympic luge track for men measures 1,100 yards with 18 tricky, hairpin bends. An unseasonal thaw made the track almost unusable Monday but an overnight freeze made it lightning fast.

Thomas Koehler of Germany, a 23-year-old student, won the men's individual tobogganing title by sweeping down the course four times in 3 minutes, 26.77 seconds.

Factory Worker Wins

His teammate, Klaus Michael Bonsack, a locksmith, registered 3:27.04, with the best time of all on his final run of 52.42 seconds. Hans Plenk made it a sweep in 3:30.15.

The women's luge title went to Ortun Enderlein, 24-year-old East German factory worker, who shot down the course four times in a total of 3 minutes, 24.67.

Ilse Geisler, a teammate, was second in 3:27.42 followed by Helene Thurner, a 25-year-old Austrian housemaid, in 3:29.06.

UCLAns Hold First With 17-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The UCLA Bruins drew 43 first place votes among the 49 cast by the panel of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters. The six other writers ranked them second.

Defeats of Davidson, Vanderbilt and DePaul shook up the Top Ten but nobody was knocked out. Davidson dropped from third to fifth after losing its first game to West Virginia 75-73. Vanderbilt tumbled from fifth to eighth after bowing to Auburn 81-63. DePaul slipped one rung to 10th after losing to Louisville 83-79.

Michigan Second

Michigan remained in second place by boosting its record to 15-1 with a 95-79 romp over Michigan State. UCLA, however rolled over the Santa Barbara branch of the University of California in two games to make it 17-0 for the year. Michigan drew five firsts but trailed UCLA in points 484-429.

Kentucky advanced a peg to third at 15-2 on a victory over Florida and Wichita whipped both Cincinnati and Marquette for a 16-3 record and moved up from seventh to fourth. Fifth-place Davidson bounced back from its first defeat and clobbered VMI 129-91.

Villanova Holds

Villanova held tight to sixth by downing American University and Detroit. Duke moved up to seventh on victories over South Carolina and Navy. Vanderbilt, in eighth place, was pursued closely by Chicago Loyola, which won three games during the week over Dayton, Western Michigan and Iowa.

All records were based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 1.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (43)	484
2.	Michigan (5)	429

4.	Wichita	265
5.	Davidson (1)	251

Embattled KC Baseball Men Meet Thursday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley will meet with city officials again Thursday but there is no indication whether it will bring any break in the long deadlock over a stadium lease for his Kansas City Athletics.

The American League ordered Finley to sign a lease by Feb. 1 or face expulsion after rejecting by a 9-1 vote his bid to move the club to Louisville Jan. 16. The league later extended the deadline to Feb. 15.

City Manager Carleton F. Sharpe said Finley in a telephone call from Chicago Monday didn't say whether he would make any new proposals at the meeting. Sharpe set the meeting for 9 a.m. CST.

Last week a meeting ended with Finley and the city farther apart than ever. The city stood firm in its contention a four-year pact is needed to stabilize the troubled franchise and end repeated threats of the club leaving the city.

Finley insisted he would risk bankruptcy by signing a lease for more than two years. But he rejected the city's offer to insert a clause in the lease permitting him to leave if threatened by bankruptcy.

Would Start Sunday Sport Games at 1:05

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Baseball and football games could start in New York state at 1:05 p.m. on Sunday instead of the present 2 p.m. limit under a bill passed Monday night by the Senate and sent to Gov. Rockefeller.

The governor previously vetoed legislation to allow the 1:05 starting time and the fate of the 1964 bill is uncertain.

Sen. William Condon, sponsor of this year's measure, said it had been requested by baseball and football teams, sports writers and others connected with Sunday afternoon sports events.

The bill would apply to all public athletic events, shows and exhibitions.

KHS Slated to Play At Liberty Tonight

Coach John Gilligan was pleased with the showing of the KHS team against Poughkeepsie. The Pioneers had won an earlier meeting by 21 points. This time, a tough defense and some timely shooting turned the trick.

Lot of Speed

Liberty has a lot of speed but hasn't much height. In Jim Tanous, the Redskins have one of the best shooters in the circuit.

This will mark the first appearance for Kingston at the newly built school in Sullivan County.

In the other DUSO action, Poughkeepsie is favored to rebound against Port Jervis while Monticello is the choice over an improved Middletown club.

Beacon will take a 31-game winning streak to the Newburgh Free Academy gym and the Bulldogs are heavily favored to win another. They clobbered NFA by 30 points only three weeks ago.

Southern Basketball Comeback Stirs Rupp

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like any good Kentucky colonel, Adolph Rupp had a couple of kind words to say about the South.

"One of my greatest satisfactions is seeing the South — once the laughing stock of the nation in basketball — now respectable and with teams rated among the top ten nationally."

Rupp made the observation Monday night after his Kentucky Wildcats knocked off Georgia 103-83 and; 1, took over sole possession of the Southeastern Conference lead; 2, provided Rupp with his 700th coaching victory and 3, prompted him to do a bit of reflecting.

Southern basketball was, as Rupp observed in pretty sad shape when he took over the Kentucky reins as a 29-year-old coach.

But that was some 33 years, four national championships and 700 victories ago.

In that time, under the leadership of Rupp and Kentucky, the Southland has emerged as one of the nation's strongest basketball areas.

Four In Top Ten

Proof? Look at the national rankings. Four of the nation's top ten come from the South; No. 3 Kentucky, No. 5 Davidson, No. 7 Duke and No. 8 Vanderbilt.

Both Kentucky and Vanderbilt protected those high ratings Monday, Vandy with a 111-73 romp over Alabama but second-ranked Michigan had its troubles.

The Wolverines, the only other ranked team in action, was edged out by Ohio State 86-85. It was Michigan's first loss in the Big Ten and only the second defeat in 17 starts for the Wolverines.

Ohio State trailed by nine points three times in the first half but rallied for an 81-73 lead with three minutes to go. The Wolverines closed to within one before time ran out.

Bradds Scores 42

In Athens, Ga., site of Rupp's first loss as a Kentucky coach Feb. 13, 1931, Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken led the charge for No. 700. Nash tossed in 33 points and Deeken added 29 as the Wildcats moved to a 16-2 overall record.

Vanderbilt, upset by Auburn over the weekend, bounced back against Alabama. The Commodores had eight players scoring in double figures, led by Clyde Lee with 15. The 111-point total represented the most points ever scored against an Alabama team.

In some of the other major games, Kansas State had to go to overtime to beat Nebraska 73-66, Nick Werkman scored 41 points and led Seton Hall to a 110-86 romp over Wagner, Colorado upset Oklahoma State 63-59 and gained a share of the Big Eight lead, while Washington of St. Louis put on a fantastic second half shooting show, hitting 16 of 21 attempts from the floor, in a 75-68 conquest of Drake.

Amateurs Turn to Medal Play

By Charles J. Tiano
(Freeman Sports Editor)

We're not being facetious when we say the United States Golf Association brass is catching up with the thinking that has determined the all-medal play format in the Herdegen Memorial over the past 14 years.

The recent pronouncement by the USGA that henceforth there will be a 36-hole medal qualifying round at the tournament site was predictable. There is a two-fold reason for the departure from the traditional all-match play format to a combination of both: (1) to reduce the cumbersome field faster and (2) reduce the work week for the play-for-fund golfer.

The size of the field being what it is, an amateur must have several things going for him in order to survive the long ordeal leading to the U.S. Amateur championship. Among these are: (a) a good-salaried job; (b) an understanding boss; (c) a contingent of well heeled admirers at the home club and, most of all, a lot of desire.

Six Other Tournaments Get Medal Treatment

The USGA is announcing today that several other national championships—about six classifications in all—will also adopt the 36-hole, on-the-spot, qualifying round at the tournament site.

Deane Beman, the current U.S. Amateur kingpin, has a flourishing insurance business in Washington, D. C. and can presumably make his own time. But at the recent USGA conclave in New York, he came out unqualifiedly for an all-medal Amateur championship. The USGA brass refused to go all the way, of course, but the adoption of the part medal and part match play format was a step in the obvious direction.

Golf experts have long felt that the only true test in golf is medal play. Amateurs have traditionally stayed with the match play format because it was regarded as less exciting then medal. And, after all, amateur golfers work for a living, don't they? But the picture has changed in recent years and the quality of amateur golf today is such that only a 72-hole medal tournament can produce the true champion.

Some Remarkable Golf By Herdegen Players

In the light of these recent moves, the records compiled by our golfers in the Herdegen Memorial year after year stand out as pretty remarkable accomplishments. Leon Randall, George Hughes and Bill Van Aken have played 72-hole Herdegen tournaments that any U.S. Amateur champion would be hard pressed to match.

The Herdegen Memorial has been all-medal since its beginning and for obvious reasons. The field is too big and it would be too time consuming to stage a lengthy match play elimination.

The Herdegen format is being changed slightly this year. Instead of a 36-hole qualifying round for all contests at two courses, each golf club will qualify its own representatives based on a quota system. The quota is based on club entries in the Herdegen Memorial over the past five years. As a result Wiltwyck Country Club will be alloted 16 qualifying spots. Woodstock and Twaalfskill get 6 places each. Two places are alloted to Shwangunk Country Club and there will be six at-large berths. The at-large spots will be contested for at Wiltwyck by unatached players and high school and college golfers without club affiliation.

Thirty six players in all will be qualified. There will be another 36-hole qualifying round at the first two tournament courses. The 24 survivors play the last 36 holes.

Sarazen Called It

Speaking of medal vs. match play, Gene Sarazen, the Squire of Germantown, who won a couple of match-play PGA championships and such all-medal classics as the U.S. Open,, Masters and British Open, has never had any doubt which is the true championship test.

"If you think you can beat me, you'll have to prove it in medal play" is an old Sarazen truism.

Night Skiing at Hunter Ski Bowl

Following a trend just gaining popularity with Eastern skiers, Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl, the Big Mountain of the Northern Catskills has inaugurated a night skiing plan. Each Wednesday and Friday for the remainder of the 1964 ski season, Hunter Mountain will be open to skiers who have not had a chance to use the facilities during the daytime.

Night skiing will be available between the hours of seven and ten p. m., twice a week. The facilities in use will include the "B" lift, as well as Park Avenue and Madison Avenue. It is suggested that beginners do not participate in the night skiing for the time being, inasmuch as there will be no facilities available to them. There will be advanced and intermediate coaching, and the slopes in use will be geared to intermediate skiing.

Expansion to include novice areas as well as other intermediate and expert trails has been earmarked for the near future. By special prior arrangement, night skiing will be available to groups on other nights of the week. These arrangements must be made in advance with the Hunter Mountain office.

Add Qualifying Rounds in USGA Golf Tourneys

The association had previously added an on-site, 36-hole qualifying round to the Men's Amateur tourney. The Amateur Public Links Championship pattern, including a qualifying round, remains unchanged.

Sectional qualifying in the men's tournaments, which draw large fields, will be continued, but more players will reach the championship proper before the list is pared.

Another change sets the minimum age limit for the Senior Amateur tourney at 50. The minimum age had been 55.

Match play in the Women's Amateur, Men's Senior and Girls Junior will be limited to 32 players while 64 will be eligible for the Public Links and Junior Amateur finals.

Three other USGA championships—the Men's and Women's opens and the Senior Women's — are determined by total strokes.

But some like it hot—and you'll know why when you taste either of these steaming mugs laced with America's favorite whiskey. Delicious after a bout with Jack Frost.

Both are easy to fix. And thanks to the Great Entertainer's special quality of taste both belong in the big time. Here's how! 7 Crown Hot Toddy: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, stir in mug. Add hot water. Garnish with cinnamon stick. 7 Crown Hot Grog: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. lemon juice. Stir. Add hot water or tea. Both are delicious.

Amateurs Turn to Medal Play

By Charles J. Tiano
(Freeman Sports Editor)

We're not being facetious when we say the United States Golf Association brass is catching up with the thinking that has determined the all-medal play format in the Herdegen Memorial over the past 14 years.

The recent pronouncement by the USGA that henceforth there will be a 36-hole medal qualifying round at the tournament site was predictable. There is a two-fold reason for the departure from the traditional all-match play format to a combination of both: (1) to reduce the cumbersome field faster and (2) reduce the work week for the play-for-fund golfer.

The size of the field being what it is, an amateur must have several things going for him in order to survive the long ordeal leading to the U.S. Amateur championship. Among these are: (a) a good-salaried job; (b) an understanding boss; (c) a contingent of well heeled admirers at the home club and, most of all, a lot of desire.

Six Other Tournaments Get Medal Treatment

The USGA is announcing today that several other national championships—about six classifications in all—will also adopt the 36-hole, on-the-spot, qualifying round at the tournament site.

This is the first step toward all-medal tournaments in the future.

Deane Beman, the current U.S. Amateur kingpin, has a flourishing insurance business in Washington, D. C. and can presumably make his own time. But at the recent USGA conclave in New York, he came out unqualifiedly for an all-medal Amateur championship. The USGA brass refused to go all the way, of course, but the adoption of the part medal and part match play format was a step in the obvious direction.

Golf experts have long felt that the only true test in golf is medal play. Amateurs have traditionally stayed with the match play format because it was regarded as less exciting then medal. And, after all, amateur golfers work for a living, don't they? But the picture has changed in recent years and the quality of amateur golf today is such that only a 72-hole medal tournament can produce the true champion.

Some Remarkable Golf By Herdegen Players

In the light of these recent moves, the records compiled by our golfers in the Herdegen Memorial year after year stand out as pretty remarkable accomplishments. Leon Randall, George Hughes and Bill Van Aken have played 72-hole Herdegen tournaments that any U.S. Amateur champion would be hard pressed to match.

The Herdegen Memorial has been all-medal since its beginning and for obvious reasons. The field is too big and it would be too time consuming to stage a lengthy match play elimination.

The Herdegen format is being changed slightly this year. Instead of a 36-hole qualifying round for all contests at two courses, each golf club will qualify its own representatives based on a quota system. The quota is based on club entries in the Herdegen Memorial over the past five years. As a result Wiltwyck Country Club will be alloted 16 qualifying spots, Woodstock and Twaalfskill get 6 places each. Two places are alloted to Shwangunk Country Club and there will be six at-large berths. The at-large spots will be contested for at Wiltwyck by unatached players and high school and college golfers without club affiliation.

Thirty six players in all will be qualified. There will be another 36-hole qualifying round at the first two tournament courses. The 24 survivors play the last 36 holes.

Sarazen Called It

Speaking of medal vs. match play, Gene Sarazen, the Squire of Germantown, who won a couple of match-play PGA championships and such all-medal classics as the U.S. Open,, Masters and British Open, has never had any doubt which is the true championship test.

"If you think you can beat me, you'll have to prove it in medal play" is an old Sarazen truism.

Night Skiing at Hunter Ski Bowl

Following a trend just gaining popularity with Eastern skiers, Hunter Mountain Ski Bowl, the Big Mountain of the Northern Catskills has inaugurated a night skiing plan. Each Wednesday and Friday for the remainder of the 1964 ski season, Hunter Mountain will be open to skiers who have not had a chance to use the facilities during the daytime.

Night skiing will be available between the hours of seven and ten p. m., twice a week. The facilities in use will include the "B" lift, as well as Park Avenue and Madison Avenue. It is suggested that beginners do not participate in the night skiing for the time being, inasmuch as there will be no facilities available to them. There will be advanced and intermediate coaching, and the slopes in use will be geared to intermediate skiing.

Expansion to include novice areas as well as other intermediate and expert trails has been earmarked for the near future. By special prior arrangement, night skiing will be available to groups on other nights of the week. These arrangements must be made in advance with the Hunter Mountain office.

Glenerie Club Bridge Results

Miss Dorothy Maroon and Dr. John Olivet combined for a 61 per cent winning effort on the North-South side of the Glenerie Bridge Club's Fractional point bridge tournament.

Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock and Roy Wulff of Kingston led the East-West with 61½ per cent. Twenty-four boards were in play in a Mitchell movement.

The runnersup:

North-South: Mrs. Harold Rakov-Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, 58 per cent; Carl Kunz - Norman Wheatcroft, Kingston, 55½ per cent; Mrs. Harry McNamara-Milton Tompkins, Hurley, 54 per cent.

East-West: Ernest LeFevre-Robert Daley, Hurley, 56½ per cent; Charles Rice, Saugerties, Robert Suda, Ulster Park, 55½ per cent; Michael Luini, Tillson, and Joseph Dell, Poughkeepsie, 52 per cent.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Prize money in the 1964 United States Open Golf Championship has been increased to $97,800. It will be held at the Congressional Country Club in Washington, June 18-20.

Add Qualifying Rounds in USGA Golf Tourneys

The association had previously added an on-site, 36-hole qualifying round to the Men's Amateur tourney. The Amateur Public Links Championship pattern, including a qualifying round, remains unchanged.

Sectional qualifying in the men's tournaments, which draw large fields, will be continued, but more players will reach the championship proper before the list is pared.

Another change sets the minimum age limit for the Senior Amateur tourney at 50. The minimum age had been 55.

Match play in the Women's Amateur, Men's Senior and Girls Junior will be limited to 32 players while 64 will be eligible for the Public Links and Junior Amateur finals.

Three other USGA championships—the Men's and Women's opens and the Senior Women's — are determined by total strokes.

Cornell Oarsman Dies at 80 Years

Weed was stroke on the Cornell University crew of 1909 which won the four-mile championship of Poughkeepsie and later that year broke the American Henley record at Philadelphia. In 1959, he was elected to the Rowing Hall of Fame at Helms Foundation in Los Angeles.

Women's Open

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (NEA) —The 1964 United States States Women's Open Championship is scheduled for the San Diego Country Club in Chula Country Club in Chula Vista July 9-11.

The Great Entertainer welcomes two hot favorites to the big time

Both are easy to fix. And thanks to the Great Entertainer's special quality of taste both belong in the big time. Here's how! 7 Crown Hot Toddy: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, stir in mug. Add hot water. Garnish with cinnamon stick. 7 Crown Hot Grog: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. lemon juice. Stir. Add hot water or tea. Both are delicious.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Women Voters League to Hear Judge Brinnier

Town Justice of the Peace William D. Brinnier will be the guest speaker of Saugerties Provisional League of Women Voters Tuesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p. m. in Saugerties Reformed Church Chapel, John Street.

Mrs. Clyde Knauert, president of the Saugerties League, announced at the January meeting that Judge Brinnier, a well-known local attorney, will speak on the structure and functions of the local courts and on the state Family Courts.

The program is in conjunction with the League's current study on the New York State Court System including the Family Court, adoptions, and the District Courts. During the course of the study the league members will inform themselves on the background material which led the other local Leagues of New York State to the conclusion that court reform was a "must" for New York State. This study is a timely one since the focus of League judicial attention during the 1964 legislative session in Albany will be the age limit of the Family Court and adoptions. The Legislative Conference will be held on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 24 and 25, in Albany. All members interested in attending this conference should contact Mrs. Knauert for more information.

The Judicial System is one of three state continuing responsibilities taken on as study items by the Saugerties League. The remaining two, the Election System and Financing of Education, will be taken up at a later date in the year.

An open invitation is extended to all women of the area to attend its next meeting.

Mt.MarionChurch Plans to Observe Boy Scout Sunday

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed by Plattekill Reformed Church, Mount Marion, on Sunday, Feb. 9 at 11 a. m.

Cub Pack No. 138, sponsored by the church will attend morning worship with their leaders. The following Cub Scouts will assist the pastor in the Order of Worship:

Douglas Myer, Invocation; Jeffrey Olive, The Lord's Prayer; Gary Myers, Salutation; John Borgen, Confession of Faith; William Partridge, Old Testament Lesson; Douglas Higgins, New Testament Lesson; David Hornbeck, Quinquagesima Prayer; Brian Scofield, Offertory Ascription, and Timothy Scofield. Offertory Prayer.

The following Boy Scouts who are members of the Sunday school will participate: David Scheffel, Troop No. 10, Kingston, will serve as acolyte. Henry Reinewald, Troop No. 130, Saugerties, will play a piano prelude.

Christopher Detweiler, Troop No. 31, Centerville; Edward Borgen, Gregory Myers, and Bruce Leighton, all of Troop No. 138, Mount Marion, will receive the morning offering, and will serve as greeters and ushers. The Rev. Henry L. Reinewald, pastor, will preach the sermon: "Our Duty To God."

The consistories of High Woods Reformed Church and Plattekill Reformed Church will meet Sunday at 3 p. m., in Plattekill Church to examine the United Conformation Class of 1963-64, composed of young people from each church who have received over 84 hours of instruction from the Rev. Mr. Reinewald since September 1963.

The confirmands who successfully pass this examination will be received by the elders into the full communicant membership of the church. The mothers of the confirmands will serve a buffet supper in the church hall following the examination. The service of confirmation will be held on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p. m., Plattekill Reformed Church, with the Rev. Mr. Reinewald and the Rev. Robert Grupe, presiding.

Discuss Congress At Monday Club

The procedures and limitations of Congress were outlined by Miss Jane Ziegler at this week's meeting of Saugerties Monday Club held at the home of Mrs. David Hildebrandt.

Mrs. William Ziegler, presided.

Miss Ziegler, discussing the topic, expained about the organization of Congress, appointments by seniority, powers of committees, increasing responsibilities of members, conflict of interest, the lobby and attempts at reform.

The next meeting will be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Frankel, Washington Avenue.

Bees Top League As Eagles Blast Into Second Slot

First place Service Center Bees dimmed the hopes of West Camp in Monday night's Saugerties Dartball League games with a crushing 3 to 0 win, halting the Palatines' second half drive which recorded 11 out of the past 12 games.

The Bees also blanked Cementon Sportsmen in the Jan. 13 make-up game played last week.

The Golden Eagles dumped VFW 3 to 0 and moved into second place, three games short in the loss column. Katsbaan Apaches won a 2 to 1 split from Quarryville and are now in the third slot. Katsbaan also won a make-up game 2 to 1 split over Centerville Vols.

Other scores: Cementon 2, Centerville 1; Southside Men 2, High Woods Sportsmen 1; American Legion 2, Malden-West Camp Vols 1 and Centerville Vols were idle.

Women Voters League to Hear Judge Brinnier

Town Justice of the Peace William D. Brinnier will be the guest speaker of Saugerties Provisional League of Women Voters Tuesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p. m. in Saugerties Reformed Church Chapel, John Street.

Mrs. Clyde Knauert, president of the Saugerties League, announced at the January meeting that Judge Brinnier, a well-known local attorney, will speak on the structure and functions of the local courts and on the state Family Courts.

The program is in conjunction with the League's current study on the New York State Court System including the Family Court, adoptions, and the District Courts. During the course of the study the league members will inform themselves on the background material which led the other local Leagues of New York State to the conclusion that court reform was a "must" for New York State. This study is a timely one since the focus of League judicial attention during the 1964 legislative session in Albany will be the age limit of the Family Court and adoptions. The Legislative Conference will be held on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 24 and 25, in Albany. All members interested in attending this conference should contact Mrs. Knauert for more information.

The Judicial System is one of three state continuing responsibilities taken on as study items by the Saugerties League. The remaining two, the Election System and Financing of Education, will be taken up at a later date in the year.

An open invitation is extended to all women of the area to attend its next meeting.

The following Boy Scouts who are members of the Sunday school will participate: David Scheffel, Troop No. 10, Kingston, will serve as acolyte. Henry Reinewald, Troop No. 130, Saugerties, will play a piano prelude.

Christopher Detweiler, Troop No. 31, Centerville; Edward Borgen, Gregory Myers, and Bruce Leighton, all of Troop No. 138, Mount Marion, will receive the morning offering, and will serve as greeters and ushers. The Rev. Henry L. Reinewald, pastor, will preach the sermon: "Our Duty To God."

The consistories of High Woods Reformed Church and Plattekill Reformed Church will meet Sunday at 3 p. m., in Plattekill Church to examine the United Conformation Class of 1963-64, composed of young people from each church who have received over 84 hours of instruction from the Rev. Mr. Reinewald since September 1963.

The confirmands who successfully pass this examination will be received by the elders into the full communicant membership of the church. The mothers of the confirmands will serve a buffet supper in the church hall following the examination. The service of confirmation will be held on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p. m., Plattekill Reformed Church, with the Rev. Mr. Reinewald and the Rev. Robert Grupe, presiding.

Report Says Space Pilots Able to Spot Enemy Bases

By HOWARD BENEDICT

BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP)—An orbiting astronaut can spy effectively on enemy territory with the unaided eye, a team of Air Force ophthalmologists reported today.

The group, from the Aerospace Medical Division, told a space medicine conference here that the finding was based on studies of visual reports of six American astronauts who rocketed into space.

The paper, presented by Maj. William B. Clark, said that with proper reconnaissance training, military space pilots could readily spot missile bases, encampments, troop movements and "unsuspected targets of opportunity" from their 100-mile-high outposts.

"Specific definition of man's maximum visual capabilities in space will be one of the most militarily significant achievements in future orbital flights," the paper said.

Cooper said he clearly saw houses and streets in the Himalaya mountains, on the plains of Tibet and in the southwest United States. He said he sighted a vehicle moving on a road, a boat on a river and a steam locomotive on a track.

Some doctors doubted Cooper. They said such sighting from his altitude was beyond the capability of the human eye. Some said the astronaut must have suffered hallucinations.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration assigned a five-man team of experts to determine if Cooper did see objects on earth with such clarity. It concluded that he did.

"When we speak of seeing," it said, "We are talking about a complex process which involves intellect and experience as well as optics. We can recognize close friends at greater distances than casual acquaintances. We make this recognition on the basis of imaged clues with which we have become familiar at closer range.

A spokesman for the hospital said Landau has been at his home in Moscow since Jan. 25. There was no word on whether Landau, 55, had recovered enough to resume his work.

The scientist is believed to have played a leading role in planning the Soviet space program. He suffered severe brain damage.

Nixon Says Nik Most Able Chief In World Today

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) —Richard M. Nixon says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is "without qualification the most able all-around world leader today," but he didn't include President Johnson in the comparison.

Nixon, former vice president and 1960 Republican presidential candidate, gave a convocation address at Pfeiffer College, then ended a two-day visit to North Carolina at a public reception at Salisbury.

"He (Khrushchev) is not the most admirable; he is not the most brainy — De Gaulle gets that spot," said Nixon, "but he has a steel-like determination."

Nixon said he did not include Johnson because "I do not think Johnson has had a chance yet to be judged in the arena of world affairs."

Nixon said he does not expect to be the Republican presidential candidate this year.

Asked if he would accept a draft, he said "I feel any man has an obligation to accept his party's nomination for the presidency."

$200,000 Blaze Hits Lumber Yard In Colonie Today

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A swift moving fire sucked life from brisk winds, swept through a lumber yard early today in suburban Colonie and caused damage estimated at $200,000.

No one was reported injured. The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Harvard Smoking Survey:

Students Find It Tougher to Kick Habit Than Adults

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

As many girls as boys smoke. High school students find it harder to kick the habit than adults.

These are some findings in a Harvard University study of smoking by high school students and their families in Newton, Mass., a suburb of Boston.

The American Cancer Society says that, because much of the data makes Newton's smoking habits consistent with national patterns, the study could reflect a national trend.

More Mothers Smoke

The report on Newton by Drs. Eva J. Salber and Jane Worcester indicates that 57.4 per cent of the mothers smoke cigarettes compared with 49.9 per cent of the fathers.

Results of the Harvard study, supported by the American Cancer Society, appear in the current issue of Cancer, a medical journal.

Dr. Salber began the study in November 1959, by having 6,810 Newton high school students fill out questionnaires on their own and their parents' smoking habits. More than a year later, a random sample of 336 students and 319 mothers were interviewed.

The researchers discovered there are twice as many nonsmoking mothers as fathers, 34.8 to 15.8 per cent. But the proportion of smokers is about the same for both parents because nearly one quarter of the fathers have given up tobacco, compared with only 7.8 per cent of their spouses.

When the male 11 per cent who smoke pipes and cigars is subtracted from the total of the smokers, more women are smoking cigarettes than men.

Religious Breakdown

The most common amount smoked by parents is between one and two packs a day. More men enjoy over two, and more women smoke fewer than one.

The study shows that Catholic fathers and sons and Jewish mothers and daughters are the most numerous cigarette smokers. Catholic mothers and daughters and Protestant fathers and sons are the least frequent smokers.

GE Faces Stoppage

A spokesman for Local 301 of the International Union of Electrical Workers said the stoppage was the result of "unsatisfactory dispositions of several grievances."

Proper Training Essential

Report Says Space Pilots Able to Spot Enemy Bases

By HOWARD BENEDICT

BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP)—An orbiting astronaut can spy effectively on enemy territory with the unaided eye, a team of Air Force ophthalmologists reported today.

The group, from the Aerospace Medical Division, told a space medicine conference here that the finding was based on studies of visual reports of six American astronauts who rocketed into space.

The paper, presented by Maj. William B. Clark, said that with proper reconnaissance training, military space pilots could readily spot missile bases, encampments, troop movements and "unsuspected targets of opportunity" from their 100-mile-high outposts.

"Specific definition of man's maximum visual capabilities in space will be one of the most militarily significant achievements in future orbital flights," the paper said.

The report leaned heavily on the remarkable accounts given by Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. after his 22-orbit flight last may.

Cooper said he clearly saw houses and streets in the Himalaya mountains, on the plains of Tibet and in the southwest United States. He said he sighted a vehicle moving on a road, a boat on a river and a steam locomotive on a track.

Some doctors doubted Cooper. They said such sighting from his altitude was beyond the capability of the human eye. Some said the astronaut must have suffered hallucinations.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration assigned a five-man team of experts to determine if Cooper did see objects on earth with such clarity. It concluded that he did.

The ophthalmologist paper concurred.

"When we speak of seeing," it said, "We are talking about a complex process which involves intellect and experience as well as optics. We can recognize close friends at greater distances than casual acquaintances. We make this recognition on the basis of imaged clues with which we have become familiar at closer range.

The fire roared out of control at the Rutland Lumber Co. and threatened to envelop a number of businesses and homes near the yard, but firemen curbed the wind-whipped blaze within two hours and brought it under control in near-zero temperatures.

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) —Richard M. Nixon says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is "without qualification the most able all-around world leader today," but he didn't include President Johnson in the comparison.

Nixon, former vice president and 1960 Republican presidential candidate, gave a convocation address at Pfeiffer College, then ended a two-day visit to North Carolina at a public reception at Salisbury.

"He (Khrushchev) is not the most admirable; he is not the most brainy — De Gaulle gets that spot," said Nixon, "but he has a steel-like determination."

Nixon said he did not include Johnson because "I do not think Johnson has had a chance yet to be judged in the arena of world affairs."

Nixon said he does not expect to be the Republican presidential candidate this year.

Asked if he would accept a draft, he said "I feel any man has an obligation to accept his party's nomination for the presidency."
